hurdles. Yankton's Angie Dvorak stumbled but recovered to finish eighth.

Though they didn't have any top-eight finishes to show for it, Yankton continued to show improvement in the sprint relays.

"What we wanted to do is see improvement in the sprint relays," Youmans said. "We saw big improvements in the 4x100, 4x200. We're getting closer to where we need to be to score points in the (Eastern South Dakota Conference), maybe even sneak into a final at state."

Bon Homme's Cassie Schuurmans placed fifth in the triple jump, posting a mark of 35-3 1/2.

A pair of area programs won Class B girls' relay titles.

The Marion foursome of Ashley Rosenwald-Muller, Kylie Hughes, Brooke Glanzer and Cara Schardin took the 1600 relay in 4:07.99, winning the event by over five seconds. Freeman finished in fifth (4:20.38), with Alcester-Hudson eighth (4:21.93).

Yankton now prepares for its biggest home meet of the season, the First Dakota Relays on Thursday.

"The First Dakota Relays is always a fun event for us," Youmans said. "We compete against 'AA' schools, but we have some 'A' and 'B' in there as well, some kids that we've never run against."

Unlike many smaller home meets, where Yankton trains through the meet, the Bucks and Gazelles will set up for some season bests at home.

"We're going to pick and choose where we're going to run our ponies. We're going to spread them out, because we want to run fast in a lot of events, put up some season bests."
