Flyers Top Bruins In Game 4, Survive With 5-4 Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Simon Gagne made a timely return to the lineup, scoring in overtime to help the Philadelphia Flyers hold off elimination by beating the Boston Bruins 5-4 on Friday night in Game 4 of the Eastern Conference semifinals.

Gagne, the longest-tenured Flyer, played for the first time since he broke his right toe in Game 4 of Philadelphia's opening-round series against New Jersey.

Game 5 is Monday at Boston. The Bruins can still advance to their first conference finals since 1992 with a win at their home ice.

Former Flyers star Mark Recchi scored twice for the Bruins — including the tying goal with 31.5 seconds left in regulation that made it 4-4.

Chris Pronger, Danny Briere, Claude Giroux and Ville Leino all scored for the Flyers.

Michael Ryder and Milan Lucic had Boston's other goals.

THE AL

announced the postponement

about six hours before game time. "We knew we were going to have some of these challenges," general manager Bill Smith said. "We've had a tremendous run of good weather and good games and great outdoor baseball. We'll get through this one."

Francisco Liriano, who was scheduled to pitch for Minnesota on Friday night, will start the opener of the doubleheader, with Scott Baker pushed back to the night start.

Kevin Millwood and Jeremy Guthrie will pitch for the Orioles, but the team did not announce in which order.

When plans were first announced for an open-air stadium, there was some trepidation that the cold weather in April and October would make life miserable for players and fans. All those concerns seemed to dissipate during a glorious opening homestand, with fans charmed by the sun on their faces, clear sightlines and breathtaking views of the downtown skyline.

"Twins executive director of public affairs Kevin Smith chuckled out loud when asked if the team regretted making the move outdoors. "Not even close!" he said.

"The Twins and Orioles were scheduled to play Game 3 of their four-game series on Saturday afternoon, and Smith said the decision to postpone was made easier by the open date on Saturday night.

"If you can postpone and make it up within 24 hours, that's a pretty good deal," Smith said.

If fans were complaining about the inconvenience, Nyberg wasn't one of them. "The only bumner for me is we're going to watch Baker instead of Liriano," he said. "For those who traveled a long ways, I feel bad for them. It is what it is. We wanted outdoor baseball and we got it."

Minneapolis resident Cristof Traudes had tickets to see Friday night's game with his wife. "I think it's ridiculous to hear any people complain that just because we had this one rainout we should have a roof," Traudes said. He was trying to trade his tickets with friends for the day game because he and his wife already have reserved tickets for "Iron Man 2" on Saturday night. So, apparently, Robert Downey Jr. trumps Justin Morneau?

"Yeah," Traudes said, "especially for my wife." A rainout or two is an easy tradeoff for Nyberg to make. He lamented the baseball experience in the Metrodome, which was configured more for football and thus required fans seated on the baselines to crane their necks to see home plate.

Even worse were those beautiful Minnesota summer evenings, a limited resource in a state some derisively call "Southern Canada," when he had to walk into the stale building to watch a ballgame.

"I'm a pretty die-hard baseball fan," he said. "I went to the Dome a lot because I like baseball. For people who didn't have just an appreciation for the game, it was a hard sell on a nice summer night. Even when the team was really good."

"Now we've got what we wanted and you have to take the good with the bad."

BLUE JAYS 7, WHITE SOX 4, 12 innings: CHICAGO (AP) — Alex Gonzalez hit the breaking three-run homer in the 12th inning, John Buck went deep twice and Toronto won its sixth straight.

Gonzalez's shot off J.J. Putz (0-2) came after Jonathon Wells walked with two outs and Lyle Overbay singled. He then drove the ball down the middle about 120 rows deep in left field for his ninth homer.

That made a winner of Scott Downs (1-3), who pitched two scoreless innings on a night when there was no shortage of drama. YANKEES 10, RED SOX 8; BOSTON (AP) — The Yankees have won their first five games by a combined score of 37-12.

Phil Hughes (4-0) allowed seven hits and two runs in seven innings. Josh Beckett (1-1) gave up nine runs in 5 1-3 innings and knocked Robinson Cano out of the game when he hit him on the left knee in the sixth.

Guerrero homered on the first pitch leading off that inning and even hit his own catcher, Jason Varitek, with a pitch that forced him out of the game with a left forearm contusion.

Jeeter played in his 2,165th game for the Yankees, breaking a tie with Lou Gehrig for second place in club history. Mickey Mantle is first with 2,391.

RANGERS 4, ROYALS 1; ARLINGTON, TEXAS (AP) — C.J. Wilson pitched his second complete game and Vladimir Guerrero homered again to lead Texas to a victory over Kansas City and keep AL Cy Young winner Zack Greinke winless in 2010.

The teams had played four innings with Detroit leading 7-5 Friday night, but all records were washed away. That includes a two-run homer by the Tigers' Miguel Cabrera, three-run shot by the Indians' Travis Hafner and a solo homer by the Indians' Greg Sizemore that would have been his first since Aug. 27.

with six RBIs, the most ever in a modern day debut — one more than the previous mark shared by four players.

Carlos Silva (3-0) struggled in the win. PHILLIES 7, BRAVES 0; PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Forty-seven-year-old Jamie Moyer tossed a two-hitter to become the oldest player in major league history to throw a shutout, and the Phillies beat Atlanta.

The Phillies confirmed the feat by Moyer, who accomplished it at 47 years, 170 days old. Phil Niekro was the previous oldest at 46 years, 188 days when he tossed a four-hitter for the New York Yankees against Toronto on Oct. 6, 1986.

Moyer (4-2) struck out five and faced one batter over the minimum to earn his 262nd career victory. He allowed leadoff singles to Troy Glaus in the second and eighth innings. He recorded his 10th career shutout and 32nd complete game.

Derek Lowe (4-3) allowed seven runs and 11 hits in five innings for the first time in the go-ahead run in the ninth inning with his fourth hit, and St. Louis took advantage of several Pittsburgh defensive lapses and a key baserunning mistake to beat the Pirates.

Joe Mather, pinch running in the ninth after Matt Holliday singled off Evan Meek (1-1) for his fourth hit, arrived well behind the throw as he tried to steal second on a pitchout, but managed to sneak his right hand in ahead of Aki Iwamura's tag. Molina followed with his double to the right-field wall.

Ryan Franklin (2-0) got the final four outs for the victory despite throwing a tying wild pitch in a wild eighth inning, when five of the Pirates' six batters reached base but only one scored.
