Lake Andes Awarded $257,500 Water Grant

LAKE ANDES — The city of Lake Andes has been awarded $257,500 in Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) money to upgrade its wastewater collection system.

"These funds will greatly improve the infrastructure in Lake Andes," said Gov. Mike Rounds. "Having up-to-date water and sewer systems will enhance the quality of life for residents of that community."

About 80 percent of the sewer lines and 75 percent of manholes in Lake Andes are part of the original, 1920s installation. The lines have a variety of problems, such as root intrusions, sediment accumulation, sagging and general deterioration.

CDBG is a reimbursement program, and the community will receive the funds as work is completed.

The CDBG program provides communities with financial resources to address a wide range of unique community development needs. Past grants have been used for improvements and construction of community buildings, fire halls, water systems, and sewer systems.

The federal Department of Housing and Urban Development funds the CDBG program, and the Governor's Office of Economic Development administers it.

who didn't like them. They accepted the opinion, moved on and it was a happy day in first grade. I think we need to do that sometimes: Listen to each other, accept each other's opinions and then move on."

It's easy to get caught up in local politics and the personalities involved in it, but Specht said he was recently reminded of how isolated that world can be from most people's day-to-day existence. While going door to door seeking input on an issue, many people had no idea he was on the commission or the mayor.

"It's my 90-5-5- rule," Specht said. "Ninety percent of the people aren't paying attention most of the time. Of the other 10 percent who are, 5 percent are with you and 5 percent are against you. It's human nature. Until it affects us directly, we're probably not paying much attention to what's happening around us."

Specht believes some bright spots in the city's future will be economic development and an improving relationship with B-Y Water, which sued Yankton in 2007.

While there have been many rewarding aspects of being involved with city government, Specht said he has no question about the highlight.

"The biggest reward is meeting the people (around the community)," he said.
