Lancers

From Page 12

"I tried it last week and it didn't turn out," he said. "This week I brought out the razor, shaved the sides and it was born."

A couple of the seniors had their own new hairstyles.

Senior shortstop/pitcher Jason Schmidt had a mohawk last week in Lincoln, but had to clean up the look for clinicals earlier this week. With his hair too short for a traditional mohawk, he decided to shave a checkerboard pattern into his hair.

"I got the idea from Allen (senior pitcher Allen Hemeyer)," Schmidt said. "I had to shave my head for clinicals, so I decided to do something stupid."

Kemp, a senior outfielder, wasn't ready to cut his hair, but instead decided to dye his uniquely-trimmed facial hair.

"I already had that pattern (in my beard) for conference," he said. "All the guys wanted me to get a mohawk, but I told them that if we won conference, I'd dye my beard black. Well, it turns out that we won it."

What has made the whole mohawk/checkerboard/crazy beard trend fun is the fact that the Lancers are winning.

"It's not much fun to do a team hairdo, Kampy stuff, if the team's losing," Kemp said. "The more we win, the more people want to join in."

Waiting Game

Even without the rain delay that pushed back Friday's schedule, the Lancers were not scheduled to play until 6 p.m. MMC plays two games a day — as the Lancers have done three of the last four days they've played — can be long, playing just one game at night can make for a long day as well.

The Lancer players did not have any big plans for sight-seeing or anything else on Friday as they waited to take the field.

"We are just hanging out at the hotel. We're going to keep it low key," Kemp said. "Mostly we're going to rest. You play a lot of games in a short amount of time, especially in a tournament situation, so rest is key."

Some of the players will spend the day with their family members who came down to Oklahoma City for the tournament.

"If their parents are here, they're probably hanging out with them," Kemp said. "A lot of people were talking about seeing the Oklahoma City bombing memorial."

"Mostly we're hanging out, watching TV."

While players were mostly on their own during the day, the team was planning to get together for part of the day.

"We're probably going to get together for lunch," said senior infielder Mike Johnson. "Just get us a little action for a while."

The late start can be tougher than a single early game, Johnson noted.

"It's a little tougher," he said. "When you play at 11, you're up and focused."

Even More Waiting

Just in case waiting until 6 p.m.
