USDSociety Earns Travel Award To Attend World Congress

VERMILLION — The University of South Dakota Student Chapter of the Society for Biomaterials is the recipient of a travel award for the ninth World Biomaterials Congress in Chengdu, China, June 1-5.

The USD Society for Biomaterials is one of only three institutions nationally to receive this award to attend the conference, which attracts more than 3,500 people, including some of the top researchers in the biomedical and biomaterials fields. The USD Society for Biomaterials, sponsored by Gopinath Mani, Ph.D., associate professor of biomedical engineering, received a grant of $1,666 to send Bo Yang, a graduate student in the Biomedical Engineering (BME) Program, to the conference. Yang received both his B.S. and M.S. in Biotechnology from Jilin University and Shenyang Pharmaceutical University.

The conference theme, "Innovative Biomaterials and Crossing Frontiers in Biomaterials and Regenerative Medicine," will feature researchers from around the world who will present their materials and share information at more than 80 symposiums, forums and workshops. Dr. Shu Chien, University Professor of Bioengineering and Medicine and Director of Institute of Engineering in Medicine at the University of California, San Diego, will present a special public lecture on June 4. Last year, Chien received the National Medal of Science, the highest honor for scientists and engineers in the United States. More information about the World Biomaterials Congress is available at www.wbc2012.com.

The Society for Biomaterials is a professional society promoting the advancements in biomedical materials research. The USD student chapter of the Society of Biomaterials presents new concepts in the biomaterials field as well as participates in community outreach through volunteering and promoting science to younger students. Officers during the 2011-12 academic year included BME graduate students Berit Foss, chapter president; Annemarie Gallo, secretary/treasurer; and Eagaparanath Thiruppathi, bylaws chair.

DAILY RECORD

POUND COUNT

Several animals are available at the Yankton Animal Shelter. For more information call the Yankton Police Department's Animal Control Officer, from 8 a.m.-4 p.m. Monday-Friday at 668-5210. A $5 fee is required to adopt an animal. Animals can be viewed on the Humane Society Web site at www.heartlandhumanesociety.net.

DAILY RECORD POLICY

The Press and Dakotan publishes police and sheriff reports as a public service to its readers. It is important to remember that an arrest should not imply guilt and that every person is presumed innocent until proven otherwise. When juveniles are released from jail, it is into the care of a parent or guardian.

It is the policy of the Press and Dakotan to publish all names made available in the police and court reports. There are no exceptions.

50 YEARS AGO

Tuesday, May 22, 1962

- A tornado which hit Hartington at about 9 p.m. Monday did considerable property damage but did not result in any injuries. A tornado funnel dipping from the black overcast of a heavy thunderstorm spread a mile-long trail of casualties and damage at the western edge of Mitchell and Lake Mitchell Monday night. "There was a sudden woosh' and it was all over. It sounded just like a pile of cobs soaked with gasoline when you touch a match to it." That's how Leo Hollingsworth described the tornado that struck his farmstead two miles north of Meckling at 9:20 p.m. Monday. Two persons were injured and extensive damage to property resulted from a tornado which struck at Lake Andes at about 7:30 p.m. Monday. The storm which hit an area about one block wide and seven blocks long, came from the southeast and moved toward the northeast.
