Ranger Station At Welcome Center

SOUTH YANKTON, Neb. — Missouri National Recreational River, the only national park in the northeast Nebraska-southeast South Dakota area, will bring the new Mobile Ranger Station to the Corps of Discovery Welcome Center on Saturday, May 31, from 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

See this visitor center on wheels; discover the reasons Congress made this part of the Missouri River a national park and the many recreational opportunities it offers. Kids can spin the quiz wheel and win prizes as they learn about the great Missouri River.

The welcome center is located two miles south of Yankton on U.S. Highway 81.

MMC Offering New Online Courses

This 2014 summer session, Mount Marty College will be offering two new online courses.

During the month of June, the college will be offering Sport Psychology. This course will offer a broad overview of the field of sport psychology. Topics covered will include motivation in sport and exercise, the effects of attention, emotions, and mood on athletic performance, cognitive and behavioral interventions in sport, and the social psychology of sport. This course is designed for athletes, coaches, parents, and sport enthusiasts. There is no prerequisite for the course and the course runs June 2-27.

The other class offered in July is Health Psychology. This course will offer a broad overview of the field of health psychology. Topics covered include the role of stress, pain and coping play in health and how they relate to chronic disease. Ways to promote health will also be examined. This course is designed for anyone in the health care profession or anyone that would like to learn more about the relationship between psychology and health. There is no prerequisite for this course and the course runs July 7-Aug 1.

For more information, contact the Office of Admissions at Mount Marty College at 605-668-1545.

Volunteers Sought For Media Study

BROOKINGS — Researchers at South Dakota State University are looking for participants in a study researching how social media affects beef purchasing decisions.

SDSU Extension and the South Dakota Beef Industry Council are conducting a study that looks to determine the influence social media has on beef purchases by Generation X and millennial consumers in the state of South Dakota. Leading the study are: Kuo-Lang "Matt" Chang and Lisa Elliot with the SDSU Department of Economics; Shannon Sand with the Rapid City Regional Extension Center; and Rocky Dailey of the SDSU Department of Journalism and Mass Communication. They are seeking participants, who must live in South Dakota and be between the ages of 25-44, to take part in:

- an online survey indicating their beef purchasing habits and nutritional knowledge as well as their social media usage; and
- a second survey to monitor and record their beef expenditures during the study while also following social media sites managed by the South Dakota Beef Industry Council.

They are seeking 100 participants for this study. Those interested can email sdsu.meatstudy@sdstate.edu for more information or go online and take the survey immediately at http://sdsumeat-study.questionpro.com.

Sobriety Checkpoints Planned In June

PIERRE — The South Dakota Highway Patrol has sobriety checkpoints scheduled in June in the following counties: Beadle, Brown, Codington, Davison, Day, Edmunds, Gregory, Hughes, Kingsbury, Lake, Lincoln and Yankton.

Yankton County GOP To Meet Monday

Yankton County Republicans will meet Monday, June 2, at the GOP Headquarters at 314 Walnut beginning at 6:30 p.m.

County Chairman Roger Meyer said, "All Republicans and particularly candidates are encouraged to attend the meeting and provide their input to the 2014 activities. This meeting is one day in advance of the primary election June 3 where final candidate selections for U.S. Senate, governor and District 18 Senate will be made."

Topics for discussion will include upcoming campaign activities and the Republican State Convention to be held in Rapid City June 19-21.

SDDP Honors Cwach

From P&D Staff Reports

A Yankton man was recently recognized with the 2014 Richard F. Kneip award by the South Dakota Democratic Party (SDDP).

Ryan Cwach received the award during the Democrats' McGovern Day Dinner held April 26 in Sioux Falls.

"The Richard F. Kneip award recognizes an outstanding up-and-coming member of our party under the age of 30," SDDP Chair Deb Knecht said during the event. "This Yankton attorney created the first ever Young Elected Legislative Leaders retreat in Pierre, a mock legislative session for high school Democrats. In just its second year, nearly 50 diverse students from across the state — many of whom are volunteering today — drafted bills, debated legislators and developed the skills they need to lead South Dakota forward. He was president of the University of South Dakota Democrats in college, and he rekindled the Yankton High School Democrats before that. Without a doubt, this award winner has invested so much in the state party, and we're confident this is just the beginning of a long commitment to Democratic politics."

According to SDDP executive director Zach Crago, Cwach is a natural-born leader with strong South Dakota roots.

"He brings people together with a focus on getting the job done, and the results speak for themselves," he said after the dinner. "I know firsthand because I've been lucky to work with Ryan and call him my friend. Ryan joins a community of Kneip award winners who have gone on to do incredible things. I will look forward to seeing all the great things he does in Yankton."

DAILY RECORD

POUND COUNT

Several animals are available at the Yankton Animal Shelter. For more information, call the Yankton Police Department's animal control officer from 8 a.m.-4 p.m. Monday-Friday at 661-9494, or 668-5210.

DAILY RECORD POLICY

The Press & Dakotan publishes police and sheriff reports as a public service to its readers. It is important to remember that an arrest should not imply guilt and that every person is presumed innocent until proven otherwise. When juveniles are released from jail, it is into the care of a parent or guardian.

It is the policy of the Press & Dakotan to publish all names made available in the police and court reports. There are no exceptions.
