 ABOVE: Volunteer Barb Rohde stands with "This Place Matters" campaign signage. Last weekend was the Open House at the Mead Building. About 471 people came to see all the great work that has been going on. Since the project began, more than 3,000 people from across the country have toured the building and viewed all the great reconstruction going on, from plaster work to window restoration to stenciling on the ceiling. There is still much to be done, and we couldn't do it without our volunteers and community support. For ways to support us, including volunteering or financial gifts, please visit our website or contact us. If you have questions about the project or events please contact us at the Dakota Territorial Museum at 610 Summit Street (in Westside Park), on Facebook, visit our website at www.meadbuilding.org, or call us at 605-665-3898.
