

Bishop Marty Memorial Chapel

1005 W. 8th St. • (605) 668-6000
A distinctive Yankton landmark built in 1950; Bishop Marty Memorial Chapel is considered one of the country's best examples of western architecture. Saints depicted over the front doorway include Saints Gertrude the Great, Lioba, Scholastica, Benedict, Gregory, Anselm and Bede. At the back of the Upper Chapel is a plaque on the east wall that commemorates the loving memory of the deceased Sisters of the Benedictine Convent of Sacred Heart Monastery. Open daily from 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. Tours available Monday-Friday or by appointment. Gift shop items are available in the Sacred Heart Monastery.

Christ Episcopal Church

517 Douglas Ave.
(605) 665-2456
www.christepiscopalchurchyankton.com
You will be captivated and inspired by the memorial stained-glass windows, the powerful rich sound of the organ and the warm, mellow woodwork in this over 150 year old church. Tours of the church are available by calling the church office.

Cramer Kenyon Heritage Home and Dorothy Jencks Memorial Garden

509 Pine St.
(605) 665-7470
www.cramer-kenyon.webs.com
Completed in 1886, by the Secretary of the Dakota Territory, this stately home is the tallest Queen Anne home in South Dakota. Unique features of the home include heavy double doors in the front entry, high coved ceilings, combination gas and electric chandeliers and replicated wallpaper in the parlors. The home remains in its original 1880s décor with oil paintings by Alice Bullfinch Cramer decorating the walls. Open for guided tours from Memorial Day through Labor Day, Wednesday - Sunday from 1 - 5 p.m. During the off season, the home is open by appointment. Admission is free will donations.

Dakota Spirit

4th Street and Broadway Avenue
Keep Yankton Beautiful presented this fountain to the City of Yankton in 2006. The fountain reconnects Yankton with its past of being called "The Fountain City". This fountain fittingly called "Dakota Spirit" was sculpted out of one solid 18 ton block of South Dakota granite from Milbank. The fountain appears to be made of many layers. These layers represent all the different people that make up South Dakota's past and present.

Dakota Territorial Capitol Replica

Riverside Park (Intersection of Douglas Avenue & Levee Street)
(605) 668-5231
The capitol replica symbolizes Yankton as being the first capitol of the Dakota Territory from 1861-1883. The replica is patterned after the original Dakota Territorial Capitol built in Yankton in 1862 and torn down in 1886. Displays in the building include photographs of old Yankton, maps of the Dakota Territory, a gallery of former Dakota Territorial governors and a tribute to the local St. John's Masonic Lodge. Visitors will want to view the quilt highlighting Yankton landmarks, made by the four Yankton Quester chapters. For rental and viewing of the capitol contact the Parks & Recreation Department.

Dakota Territorial Museum

610 Summit St.
(605) 665-3898
www.dakotaterritorialmuseum.org
Take a step back in time as you enter the Dakota Territorial Museum. The museum holds a large collection of rare memorabilia of early life in the Dakota Territory. Some of the exhibits include the musical instruments of Felix Vinatieri,

*Great Steaks, Seafood, Chicken,
Full Salad & Dessert Bar
Full Menu at www.jodeans.com*

Choose From Any One of Our Great Buffets!

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK!

Monday-Saturday Open at 11 a.m., Sunday Open at 10:30 a.m.

A South Dakota Tradition

2809 Broadway, Yankton, SD

605-665-9884

Scrapbook Supplies

Hours:
Mon-Fri 9am-5pm
Sat - call ahead

215 Mulberry St., Yankton, SD • 605-665-1407

