Johnson Seeks Spring Intern Applicants

WASHINGTON — As students begin to plan for their spring semester, Sen. Tim Johnson (D-S.D.), Chairman of the Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs Committee, is now accepting applications for spring internship positions in his Washington, D.C., Sioux Falls, Rapid City and Aberdeen offices and is also accepting applications for internships with the Senate Banking Committee.

"This is an excellent opportunity for college students to experience the United States Senate, Capitol Hill and Washington, D.C.," Johnson said. "An internship in my Washington, D.C., office or one of my state offices will provide students with a chance to serve South Dakota and gain first-hand knowledge of the federal government."

The Washington, D.C., internship program matches interns' interests to South Dakota and federal issues and provides a firsthand opportunity to experience a wide-range of office duties. Interns may attend hearings, research issues for projects, and work with the office administrative staff. Students may also apply to intern in the press shop for Johnson. Press interns work on tracking media coverage, organizing clips, writing releases, and other various press shop activities, as needed.

Internships in Johnson's state offices will provide students with in-depth knowledge of current issues affecting the state and the opportunity to work directly with South Dakotans. An intern in a state office will assist staff with special events, constituent casework and administrative functions.

College sophomores, juniors and seniors are encouraged to apply for Johnson's spring internship program. For Banking Committee internships, graduate students and recent graduates are also encouraged to apply. College credits or a stipend are available. To apply for a state office internship, call toll-free at 1-800-537-0025. To apply for a Washington, D.C. internship, interested students should submit a cover letter, resume, references and a writing sample to:

Both in-state and Washington, D.C. internships will allow students to work closely with constituents, hone their research and writing skills, and learn a multitude of valuable office skills.

Noem Seeks Interns For Both Local And Washington Offices

WASHINGTON — Rep. Kristi Noem (R-S.D.) is currently seeking college students to serve as interns in her office in Washington, as well as in her offices in Aberdeen, Watertown, Rapid City, and Sioux Falls.

Interns in Rep. Noem's state offices will be assigned various constituent case work or work on District-based projects of importance while students in the Washington office will be asked to answer phones, run errands, research legislation for the Member and legislative staff, attend hearings and briefings and assist with constituent mail. Both in-state and Washington internships are unpaid, but provide students with first-hand knowledge of the legislative process and the countless other functions of a congressional office.

"Interning in a congressional office is an eye-opening experience for college students interested in American government," Noem said. "Interns in my office are a valued part of our team and an internship experience is a good component to any liberal arts education. I strongly encourage hardworking college students to apply."
