Big Leaguers Pick Miguel Cabrera As Top Player

NEW YORK (AP) — Miguel Cabrera is waiting for the crown that was presented to him at the World Series to arrive at his home. He'll give it a prominent spot in his office.

"I'll show it to my friends, my family," the Detroit Figers third baseman said Monday after adding another honor by beating out Pittsburgh center fielder Andrew McCutchen and Los Angeles Angels rookie Mike Trout for player of the year as voted on by their fellow major leaguers. "I think it's going to be something special for my kids. ... It's going to be a good story for my grandkids.' Cabrera, the first Triple Crown winner in the big leagues since 1967, hit .330 with 44 homers and 139 RBIs for the AL champion Tigers. The slugger was given an actual crown by Major League Baseball during the World Series in honor of his achievement.

Election day. The one day a year when news reporters work has hard as the average sports guy on a game night. (Just kidding, my colleagues.)

Over the years, I've had an opportunity or two to cross that newsroom party line and cover politicians, though I have worked hard to keep those moments as few as far between as possible. The reason I try to avoid it is very simple: everyone seems to be more interested in blaming someone else than actually getting anv work done.

In sports, the people who blame everyone but themselves and aren't willing to work with teammates find

Crofton Duo Honored By NCA

LINCOLN, Neb. — Crofton's Danielle Riesberg and Kendy Kube were named to the Nebraska Coaches Association Girls' Cross Country All-State team, announced Monday.

Riesberg finished second in Class D, with Kube finishing seventh. The pair led Crofton to its seventh consecutive Class D girls' team title.

SDSU Duo Earn MVFC Honors

ST. LOUIS — South Dakota State University kicker Justin Svrovatka and linebacker T.J. Lally have been named players of the week by the Missouri Valley Football Conference for their efforts in the Jackrabbits' 16come-from-behind victory at Southern Illinois on Nov. 3.

A sophomore from Sioux Falls, Syrovatka received MVFC Special Teams Player of the Week after going 3-for-3 on field goals, connecting from 28, 41 and 33 yards. He also handled the kickoff duties for the first time this season, leading a special teams unit that allowed the Salukis an average of only 13.2 yards on six return attempts.

Lally, a redshirt freshman from Chicago, earned MVFC Newcomer of the Week recognition for the second consecutive week and fourth time this season after tying for the team lead with 10 tackles, notching three tackles for loss with two sacks, and forcing a fumble. Lally's forced fumble early in the fourth quarter set up a field goal that pulled the Jackrabbits to within 10-9.

In addition, Lally was named National FCS Defensive Player of the Week by CollegeSportsMadness.com.

South Dakota State, 7-2 overall and 5-1 in MVFC, will travel to topranked North Dakota State Saturday in a game that will decide sole possession of first place in the league standings. Kickoff is slated for 2:30 p.m. at the Fargodome in Fargo, N.D.

McCabe Earns GPAC Honors

SIOUX CITY, Iowa — Morningside J-back Joel McCabe has been named the Great Plains Athletic Conference football offensive Player of the Week.

McCabe, a junior from Jefferson, caught nine passes for 161 yards and three touchdowns as Morningside clinched the GPAC regular season title. The Sioux City Bishop Heelan grad is a transfer from Minnesota State-Mankato.

The third-ranked Mustangs finish the regular season against crosstown rival Briar Cliff on Saturday.

USF 'Top Drawer Drive' This Weekend

SIOUX FALLS — The University of Sioux Falls volleyball program is partnering with the Banquet to hold a "Top Drawer Drive" on Nov. 9 and 10

Fans that donate a new package of adult/youth socks or underwear (boxers for men and teens) will receive free admission to the Cougars' home matches this weekend. USF will face No. 2 Concordia-St. Paul (20- at 7 p.m. on Friday and will host No. 20 Minnesota State, Mankato (15-8) for Senior Day at 3 p.m. on Saturday. There will be donation boxes next to the ticket booth inside of the Stewart Center.

The Banquet is collecting these new undergarments for the guests of The Banquet for Christmas. In 2011, The Banquet served 145,000 meals with 16,000 of those meals served to children under age 12. The mission of The Banquet is to equip volunteers to provide food and fellowship to those served through the ministry of The Banquet. We provide a safe place where people can gather, receive nourishment and experience love in action

Detroit was swept by San Francisco in the World Series. Cabrera hit .231 with three RBIs and ended the Series by taking a called third strike.

But winning the Players Choice Award was special because the voters were his big league peers.

Retiring Atlanta third baseman Chipper Jones was voted Marvin Miller man of the year for excellence on and off the field over finalists Paul Konerko of the Chicago White Sox and Michael Young of Texas in Players Choice voting announced Monday.

Other awards went to Cabrera (AL outstanding player), McCutchen (NL outstanding player), Tampa Bay's David Price (AL outstanding pitcher) and New York Mets knuckleballer R.A. Dickey (NL outstanding pitcher). Trout and Cincinnati third baseman Todd Frazier were voted the outstanding rookies, and Adam Dunn of the Chicago White Sox and San Francisco catcher Buster Posey were chosen comeback players of the year.

Voting took place in September.

significant action this season include Wes Eikmeier (Sr., G), Dorian Green (Sr., G), Greg Smith (Sr., F), Pierce Hornung (Sr., F) and Iverson — all of whom were already on campus when Eustachy was hired.

"It's good to know that coach is staying with seniors and the guys coach Miles recruited." Iverson said. "It was our year and we were looking forward to it, and I'm just happy we get to play a bunch.'

Though Iverson was not on the court last season when CSU qualified for the NCAA Tournament through an at-large bid, he is no stranger to the highest stage. Minnesota made the national tournament in Iverson's first two seasons with the Gophers.

"Last year, these guys did a great job bringing Colorado State to the next level; they put this school on the basketball map," Iverson said. "Just making it there is big-time exposure, especially when you get to play on national TV. We're looking forward son Friday at home against Montana, but Iverson made clear that at this point in his career — with just one season remaining — he doesn't really care who he plays. After watching last season from the bench, he's ready to go.

"It was tough to watch, knowing I could practice but couldn't get out there on game days," Iverson said. "I was so excited for those guys who had never been there before. Now we've all got NCAA experience, so it'll definitely benefit us.

I've been there twice (with Minnesota), but none of us have a win," he added. "That's the goal.

really changes when the Huskers go into two-minute mode, as they did against the Spartans. Their hurry-up offense is, well, their normal offense.

"A lot of teams might find different plays and come out of different personnel formations and stuff," receiver Quincy Enunwa said. "We really just ran our offense and went down the field on them.'

The Huskers practice twominute situations once a week.
