USD's Seekamp Earns Summit League Honors

ELMHURST, III. - When it comes to getting player of the week honors, South Dakota sophomore guard Nicole Seekamp is 1-for-1 after being named the initial Summit League Women's Basketball Player of the Week for the 2012-13 season on Monday.

Seekamp, a native of Ren-Seekamp mark, Australia, averaged 18.5 points per game as the Coyotes split their opening two games of the season. Seekamp led the team in scoring during both games, shot 42 percent (13-31) from the field, and averaged 4.5 rebounds and 3.5 steals over the weekend

A former point guard for the Australian U19 national team, Seekamp was on the Coyote roster last season but sat out the entire year.

Seekamp and the Coyotes will play at Northern lowa at noon on Thursday

Wolters Earns Weekly Honor

ELMHURST, III. — The Summit League named South Dakota State guard Nate Wolters its initial men's basketball player of the week on Monday after his 30point effort in the season-opener at Alabama. The honor marks the ninth of Wolters' career, tying him for the second-highest total on record.

A senior from St. Cloud, Minn., Wolters poured in Wolters added three assists, three steals and three rebounds while playing all 40 minutes.

USD Encourages T-shirt Swap Ahead Of Football Game

VERMILLION (AP) — The University of South Dakota's College of Arts and Sciences is sponsoring a T-shirt swap ahead of next weekend's football matchup between the Coyotes and the South Dakota State University Jackrabbits.

The college is encouraging students, faculty and staff to donate any item of SDSU apparel in any condition in exchange for a new red USD T-shirt.

All of the old SDSU clothing will be recycled and returned to the SDSU campus before the game by the Department of Military Science.

Dean Matthew Moen says it's an effort to promote USD's new sustainability major in a light-hearted way while finding a good home for SDSU apparel.

USD travels to Brookings to face SDSU on Nov. 17 for the team's first football matchup in nine years.
