PHOTO: DAKOTA TERRITORIAL MUSEUM

Since 2008, when the Yankton County Historical Society began planning for Mead as a new museum, stencil and artwork under the top layer of paint have been exposing themselves. No known records, or photos, of this beautiful and colorful work are known to exist. Now, in preparation for the next stage, Mead needs an environmental cleaning, which will require a new coat of paint over the stencils and murals. In light of this required cleaning, YCHS has taken steps to ensure the stencils in Mead are documented for future replication. Nancy Losacker, from Vermillion, was hired for this task and began working this week to document the hidden art. She plans to be done the end of this week. With the holidays not far off, we have the perfect gift idea — a donation for window restoration is the perfect gift that can last a lifetime. For just $25 a month for one year you could purchase a $300 window. If you are interested becoming a part of the Mead Building project, giving opportunities are available in a variety of donation levels. For more information on how to get involved or how things are progressing stop by the Dakota Territorial Museum, 610 Summit Street in Westside Park, or check out their Facebook page (Dakota Territorial Museum).
