Doniphan-Trumbull added to its lead on a 56-yard touchdown run by Jordan Slough with 8:00 left in the second quarter, jumping ahead 20-0. The score stayed that way until early in the fourth quarter, when Slough scored on a 5-vard run one play after Crofton was intercepted for the third time.

Those five turnovers halted any chance of a comeback for the Warriors.

"We executed our game plan, but those turnovers really hurt," said Crofton senior wingback Evan Woockman, who was limited to 86 rushing yards on 33 carries. "We games. Committed to running the ball out of its double-wing system, Crofton just didn't have the firepower to mount a challenge, Hoffman said. The first trip inside the red zone for the Warriors' offense ended on a blocked field goal try midway through the third

With the offense we have this year, we just can't come from behind," Hoffman said.

Partly because of the lack of real traction on the wet field (which was surrounded by snow that had been pushed off the playing surface), the Warriors found it tough to run against a fast Cardinals' defense.

Their ends got after us; got a lot of penetration," Woockman said. "And with these conditions, it's hard to keep your feet."

While Doniphan-Trumbull advances to next week's C2 quarterfinals, Crofton is left to put the finishing touches on its season.

"Only one team gets to finish on a win, and unfortunately we're not it," Hoffman said. "It'd be nice to be that team.

"But from where these guys were, with 12 freshmen and not many kids playing, by the end of the year here, we were playing pretty good ball."

Crofton loses seven seniors from the team: Evan Woockman, Corbin Wavrunek, Austin Woockman, Jake Guenther, J.T. Allen, Preston Evans and Eric Kleinschmit.

The NCAA also placed O'Boyle and Smith under two-year show cause orders. For O'Boyle, that means he's not allowed to have access to any money that comes in through football camps or fundraising at SIU. He also must pay his own way to a regional rules seminar and will be monitored by the SIU athletic department.

For Smith, his athletically related duties will be restricted if he works again at an NCAA school.

Chadron State already had self-imposed a reduction of paid official recruiting visits, from 75 to 60, for the 2013-14 academic year. The school also limited the number of coaches who recruit off-campus.
