Library Introduces New Student Programs

The South Dakota Children's Choice book lists are out. The Yankton Community Library, 515 Walnut Street, has all of the books on both lists and is having special programs to introduce them to students.

On Thursday, Nov. 6, during the library's after-school program for early elementary students, grades K-2, the staff will be reading some of the new Prairie Bud nominees. Upper elementary students, grades 3-5, will be introduced to the Prairie Pasque books on Nov. 13.

Both programs begin at 3:45 p.m. and include an introduction to the books, a game and a craft. All the books are available for check out after the programs.

The Prairie Bud and Prairie Pasque Children's Book Awards are sponsored by the South Dakota Library Association. The nominees are chosen by a committee of librarians, teachers, and others interested in encouraging young people to read.

If you have questions about these events or about the Prairie Bud and Prairie Pasque lists and awards, contact Joyce Moore by emailing jmoore@cityofyankton.org or calling the library at 668-5276.

Car Talk

BY TOM AND RAY MAGLIOZZI

King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Dear Tom and Ray:

We just picked up a new Fiat 500C, and we were pondering the lifetime warranty. Before the car hits 10,000 miles, we have to decide whether to buy it. The cost is around $3,000. Is something like this worth it? We would like to keep the car for 10-15 years. Cheers! — Karl RAY: Generally speaking, extended warranties are not worth it. Why? Because if insurance companies didn't take in more money from premiums — overall — than they spent on repairs, they would stop selling the things.

TOM: But that doesn't mean it's not worth it to you. Maybe you're buying a car with unknown long-term reliability? Hint: You are.

RAY: Or maybe you're someone who sleeps better knowing for certain that you'll never get a call from the service manager telling you that the estimate for your new engine is $6,400.

TOM: But there are two variables to consider. The most important is the fine print.

RAY: What does this "lifetime warranty" actually cover? Is it a complete extension of the factory warranty? Is it just the powertrain? Does it cover body hardware and electrical issues? What, specifically, is excluded? "Wear items," like brakes and shocks?

TOM: What's the deductible? Are there conditions you have to meet to keep the warranty in force? For instance, do you have to get your car serviced regularly at the dealership? Do you have to keep written records of all of your services and oil changes?

RAY: If you don't feel capable of doing a "close read" of the warranty's fine print by yourself, then it's worth paying an independent mechanic you trust to read it and go over it with you. You want to know what is and isn't covered. Your mechanic also can talk to you about how often he sees the kinds of repairs that are covered, and how often he sees those that aren't.

TOM: Once you know what kind of warranty you're actually buying, then you can try to guess the likelihood that you'll spend $3,000 on those kinds of repairs in the years that you own your car.

RAY: Also keep in mind that the price of the warranty is negotiable. Like

Whitetails Unlimited Donates To Support Yankton Hunter Safety Program

The Missouri River Chapter of Whitetails Unlimited donated $2600.00 in support of the South Dakota Hunt Safe Program in Yankton. With this donation, the Hunt Safe instructors, including Tom Vollmer, Scott Aase, Bruce Cull, and Bill Hewes, were able to supply the program with shotguns, ammunition, whiteboards, and other teaching aids to enhance the students' learning experience.

Whitetails Unlimited is a leading conservation organization that is dedicated to preserving white-tailed deer and their environment. Terry LaBounty, Chairman of the Missouri River Chapter, has made sure that this national non-profit organization has stayed true to its mission by giving back to the Yankton community.

The SD Hunt Safe Program is funded through the Pittman-Robertson Conservation Program. The Pittman-Robertson Act was put into effect in 1937 to help fund wildlife conservation in the United States. This funding comes from federal excise taxes on equipment such as hunting and fishing licenses, firearms, ammunition, archery equipment, and fishing equipment that are purchased by outdoorsmen. The revenue created from the excise taxes is then sent to state wildlife agencies for conservation, hunter's education, and other shooting projects and programs.

The NFAA Foundation has been home for the Yankton Area Hunt Safe Program since 2008 and utilizes classrooms, equipment, personnel and trap shooting at its operating center.

ROCS To Offer Residents Education On Health Insurance

The Rural Office of Community Services, Inc., (ROCS) will offer area residents the opportunity to meet with a navigator in Yankton to learn more about the Health Insurance Marketplace.

The Health Insurance Marketplace is a new way to find coverage that fits an individual's budget and meets his or her needs. Whether the individual is uninsured, or just wants to explore his or her choices, the Marketplace will help find coverage that is appropriate for them.

An outreach event is scheduled in Yankton on Wednesday, Nov. 5, running from 4-7 p.m., in the Northern Lights Conference Room 2 on the second floor of Avera Sacred Heart Hospital's Northern Lights Addition. No appointment is necessary.

Lizzy Bolander, a navigator from ROCS will give an overview of the Health Insurance Marketplace and answer questions. The navigator, who is trained to provide unbiased information about the Health Insurance Marketplace, will also be available for scheduled individual appointments to assist with the enrollment process at a later date.

The project described was supported by Funding Opportunity Number CANAV-13-001 from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services.

For more information, contact Marilyn Kathol (605) 668-8105 or Tim Schwasinger (605) 668-8103 at Avera Sacred Heart Hospital or Lizzy Bolander at The Rural Office of Community Services, Inc. (605) 469-5363 or email lbolander@rocsinc.org.

50th Anniversary Celebration

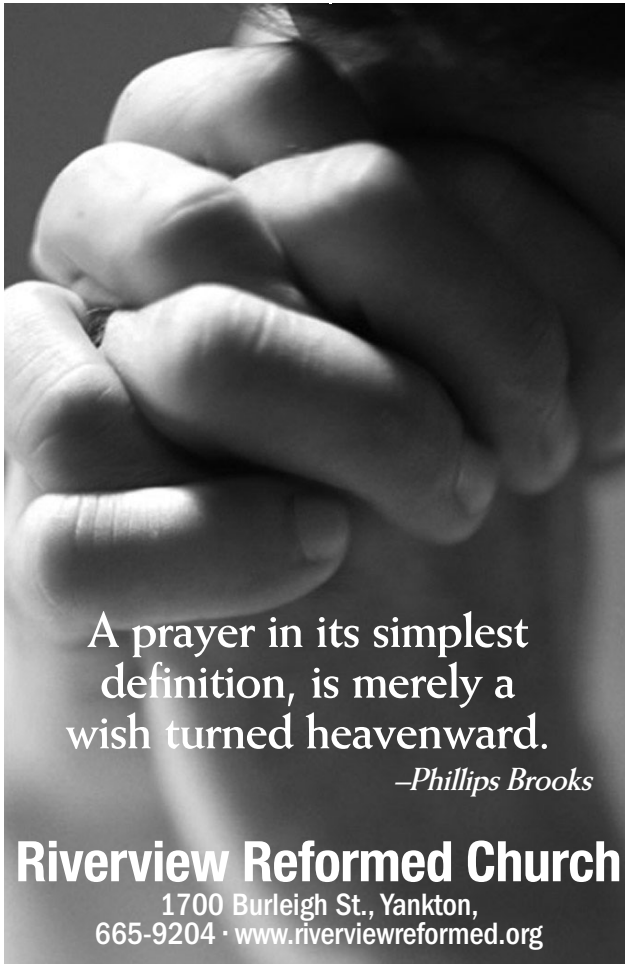

Mr. & Mrs. Mackeprang

The children of Bob and Mardy Mackeprang wish to invite you to a celebration of their parents' 50th wedding anniversary on November 8th, 2014. The celebration will start with a mass at 5:30 p.m. at St. Rose of Lima Catholic Church, Crofton, NE. A dinner reception and dance will follow immediately at the parish center.

Bob and Mardy were married on November 7, 1964, at St. Peter & Paul Catholic Church in Bow Valley, NE.

The couple has six children and 13 grandchildren. Greetings may be sent to 208 W. Sharon St., Crofton, NE, 68730.

A prayer in its simplest definition, is merely a wish turned heavenward.
