

Coyotes

Freshman Bailey Oettel, who had been USD's fourth runner most of the season, fell down and by the time she got back up, she had lost the main body of the field.

Luckily for the Coyotes, sophomore Nicole Schmidt stepped up and eventually finished 13th — earning second team all-league honors. Oettel still took 22nd place.

The windy conditions were also a concern, Fitzsimmons said.

"That made me really nervous, because I knew there'd be a chance our women could be leading in different groups," he said, "but when it's windy like that, it allows everyone behind you to take advantage of you blocking all the wind."

In other area finishes, South Dakota State's Jenna Grossburg of Yankton was 24th.

Men's Race

IUPUI defeated defending champion South Dakota State 38-56 for first place in Saturday's 8K men's race in Fargo. The University of South Dakota was third, just seven points behind the Jackrabbits.

Tom Ohlman of IUPUI narrowly beat SDSU's Brendan Sage for the individual crown, while IUPUI's Miguel Lozano was third.

The Coyotes had three first team all-league selections, as senior Brant Haase was fourth (25:35), junior Mubark Musa fifth (25:36.3) and junior Isaac Allen sixth (25:36.7). Redshirt sophomore Mach Dojick took 21st place, while freshman Brice Cowman from Yankton was 27th.

After taking second place at the conference meet last year, the Coyotes know what it takes to have to build into a title contender, Fitzsimmons said.

"You don't win a conference title overnight, it takes a couple years to build to that crescendo," he said. "It's maybe harder to understand where you're younger, but our veterans know what I'm talking about."

In other area finishes, South Dakota State's Duane Jongeling of Parker was 26th.

Johnson, who has 4,051 yards rushing in his career at Northern Iowa (5-4, 3-2 Missouri Valley), moved past Corey Lewis, who ran for 4,003 yards from 2005-2008.

Illinois State's Marshaun Coprich, who finished with 166 yards rushing and three touchdowns, tied it at 21 with a 76-yard scoring run with 9 minutes remaining, but Johnson returned the ensuing kickoff 98 yards for a score before adding an 18-yard touchdown run to make it 35-21 with 4:12 to play.

The Hawkeyes (6-2, 3-1 Big Ten) raced to a 24-0 lead in the first quarter and held the Wildcats to a season-low 180 yards of offense.

Northwestern (3-5, 2-3) dropped its third straight game.

Weisman rushed for 94 yards and three touchdowns. It was the senior's fifth straight game with multiple scores.

Wadley rushed for 106 yards and a touchdown in his first career game. The freshman is Iowa's first 100-yard rusher in 11 games.

Iowa quarterback Jake Rudock threw for 269 yards and a score.

The Sooners had 480 yards and led 35-7 at halftime, a promising sign ahead of next week's matchup with Baylor in Norman.

Dirty Politics

Mr. Garrity is running for Yankton County Auditor and has put in his ads about mistakes made in the Auditor's office.

What he failed to tell you is that the previous auditor, Paula Jones, made these mistakes years ago due to brain tumors, 10 of them with fluid build that affected her physically and mentally.

Apparently, Mr. Garrity is running against a dead woman in the race and I find that unforgivable.

Mr. Garrity does not deserve to be elected auditor if he is willing to attack my wife - Paula Jones.

Please vote for Patty Hojem, she deserves it.

Sincerely,
Larry Jones
