Flowers Need To Be Removed At GOM

All flowers in the Garden of Memories Cemetery in Yankton will need to be removed by 1 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 9. The staff at the Garden of Memories Cemetery will turn down all vases to prepare for the winter months. Mausoleum and niche vases will also be removed and stored during the winter. Any flowers left in vases will be discarded. On April 1, 2015 (weather permitting), vases can be turned up again and mausoleum and niche vases will be placed back in their ring. Call the Wintz & Ray Funeral Home at 665-3644 if you have any questions.

Vets Services To Host Open House

GAYVILLE — The Yankton County Veterans Service Office and the South Dakota Department of Veterans Affairs will be hosting an open house for veterans and their families at the Gayville Community Center, 404 Washington Street, Gayville, on Friday, Nov. 21, running from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. The South Dakota Department of Veterans Affairs (SDDVA) has designated 2014 as their year to reach out to all 75,000 South Dakota veterans. "Operation RAV" (Reaching All Veterans) is the campaign of the SDDVA to identify and make direct contact with South Dakota's veterans and to make them aware of the benefits and services available to them. The open house affords the county veterans office the opportunity to thank our veterans and assist veterans and their families in acquiring veteran's benefits and services available to them.

BBB Warns Of IRS And Medicare Phone Scams

OMAHA, Neb. — BBB serving Nebraska, South Dakota, The Kansas Plains and Southwest Iowa is warning consumers to be on the alert for phone scams involving con artists pretending to be Internal Revenue Service (IRS) agents who try to gain access to your personal information. Over the last two weeks, the Regional BBB has received more than 80 calls about this scam. IRS impersonators are calling consumers and telling them that they are late on paying their taxes, and after being probed for private information, like their Social Security number, are told to send the funds via a prepaid Green Dot Money-Pak card or a wire transfer. Some of the calls come with threats of jail time, deportation and suspension of business or driver's licenses. Yesterday, one consumer reported to BBB that he was told the IRS had mailed documents to him, and since he had not replied, he was going to be arrested unless he remitted $9,000. Luckily, he checked with BBB before sending the money. The fake IRS agents have been known to use a computer program to make the real IRS phone number appear on the person's caller ID. Some of the scammers quote false badge numbers and use call centers with background noise to make them seem legitimate. There have also been reports of callers having personal information, like your name, address and Social Security number. In addition, threats and bullying are often used to try to extract information, or they call back numerous times, trying to wear you down. BBB President Jim Hegarty stated, "You really ought to think about this: If it actually is the IRS on the phone- this is the one government agency that already has your Social Security number. Also, the IRS does not contact taxpayers by calling them. The real IRS sends documentation in the mail. So just hang up! If people didn't fall for it, the scammers wouldn't persist with this scheme." Other con artists, seeking personal information, may also say they are representatives from Medicare or the Treasury Department. Seniors know that Medicare enrollment is open during this time of year, and callers use this as a reason to keep their prey on the phone. The scammer may claim that new benefit cards are being issued or that, because of recent changes to Medicare, they require information to update your file. Their goal is the same as those claiming to be from the IRS — to try to gain access to personal information that will allow them to steal your money, health benefits or identity. BBB offers this advice to avoid getting scammed: • Look Out for "Spoofing." Part of scammers tactics include spoofing, which happens when the caller masks their own number and causes the number of a well-known service, like the IRS, to appear on caller ID. • Know your rights. The IRS doesn't request prepaid debit cards or wire transfers payments, and will not ask for a credit card number over the phone. The IRS alerts taxpayers by mail. If you owe, or think you owe federal taxes, call the IRS at 1-800-829-1040 or go to irs.gov. IRS workers can help you with your payment questions. • Report it. If you've been targeted by this scam, report it to BBB at 800-649-6814 and report the incident to Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration (TIGTA) online or at 1-800-366-4484. • Protect your personal information. Don't provide any account or other personal information over the phone. If you have any questions or concerns about your taxes, hang up and call the agency directly. • Don't be bullied. Never trust callers who use threats and hostility to push you into doing what they want. Be skeptical of what a caller claims he or she can do if you refuse to meet their demand. Report threats to the police.
