MEETINGS

LIBRARY TEEN ADVISORY BOARD

The Yankton Community Library Teen Advisory Board (TAB) met Nov. 6 to make December plans. There will be a Christmas party for all interested teens in grades 6-12 on Saturday, Dec. 13, from 3-5 p.m. The festivities include games and a progressive gift exchange. Attendees are asked to bring a wrapped gift costing no more than $5. Numbers will be drawn and gift stealing will ensue.

The board discussed volunteering at the library's Parents' Night Out on Dec. 6 at the Summit Center and also how the library could be rearranged to create a teen space. Future activities include an after-hours lock-in, puppet shows for young children, and a murder mystery night.

The next TAB meeting is scheduled for Monday, Dec. 1, at 7 p.m., to finalize Christmas party plans and make decorations.

For more information or to become a member of the TAB, contact Youth Services librarian Joyce Moore at 668-5276.

TOASTMASTERS CLUB 6217

On Oct. 30 Toastmasters (TI) Club 6217 met at noon at the Pavilion with Stan Sudbeck giving the invocation, and Jane Miller as Toastmaster.

General Evaluator (GE) Jennifer Suing introduced her team. They were: Muriel Stach, timer; Gale Vogt and Jennifer Wubben, evaluators; Chelsi Hames, "ah/um' counter; and Steve Anderson grammarian. Anderson's Word of the Day was "Ghastly" meaning something terrible or horrible.

Speeches were given by Jan Schiferl and Eric Taylor, speaking about how music is good for your health and that we were all born with internal rhythm and also how fusion power is changing how we look at power and becoming the next Holy Grail. Schiferl was evaluated by Vogt and Taylor by Wubben giving praise for the interesting topics that were well organized and researched. Table Topics were led by Joyce Stevens bringing back her old music records to help light the way for her questions. Greg Stach truly believed in music back while the Vietnam was raging the "Moody Blues". Jeff May feels like screaming "HELP" everyday but instead takes time out and listens to music. Eileen O'Connor's confessed her late nights with Charlie Rose. Stach was enjoying the timer duty so much she wasn't sure what she was still hungry for in life.

Come check out the club the whole month of November as a guest. We meet every Thursday from 12:00pm-1:00pm at the Pavilion Conf. Rm. 2.

On Nov. 6 Toastmasters (TI) Club 6217 met at noon at the Pavilion with Kary Beltz giving the invocation with an autumn prayer, and Joyce Stevens as Toastmaster.

General Evaluator (GE) Fran Kocer introduced his team. They were: Jane Miller, timer; Jeff May, evaluator; Jan Schiferl, "ah/um" counter; and Eileen O'Connor, grammarian. O'Connor's Word of the Day was "Debunk" meaning to expose the sham of falseness.

A Speech was given by Muriel Stach. She spoke of November being banner booster month and what that meant to toastmasters. Stach was evaluated by May who gave praise for all the information that she gave using good visual aids and great use of enthusiasm and vocal variety. He pointed out her biggest point of having fun with toastmasters and not making as though it's a burden.

Table Topics were led by Chelsi Hames, she used Halloween and Daylight Savings as her topic. Greg Stach does believe daylight savings is necessary for the social advancement it allows. Steve Anderson thinks it's a good idea that young kids trick or treat during the daylight hours and leave the older kids to go during the night when he can shut his lights off and lock his door. Jennifer Wubben thinks early trick or treating is good for the little ones but likes to see activities later in the night so more working moms/dads can take their kids. Miller would choose to be "Cher" for Halloween if there were no stipulations to her costume. Beltz favorite Halloween party was when she went as Martha Stewart to work and later that night gave birth to her son.

Stevens then Toastmaster turned the meeting over to Greg Stach who gave the next couple weeks agenda for the club during Banner Booster month. Come learn more about toastmaster this week during guest month and re-ceive a little gift for coming. Questions contact Greg Stach at 605-665-6776.
