USD Students To Host Imagination Library For Area Children

VERMILLION — At 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 18, students from the University of South Dakota will host an interactive event for Imagination Library at the John T. Vucurevich Center in Vermillion.
The two-hour event will consist of students interacting and reading an Imagination Library sponsored book with the children at the center.
"This event is a class project that will serve as a community service initiative to increase awareness of Imagination Library and United Way of Vermillion," said Nicole Gibson, a USD student from Elgin, Iowa who's participating in the event.

The mission of Imagination Library is to establish reading habits with young children at an early age. The organization sends age appropriate books to children from birth to age five, free of charge.

The event will also have a registration table, where parents will be able to register for Imagination Library after the activities. Brochures with sign-up information will also be available to help increase registration rates in Vermillion and surrounding areas.

The event is sponsored by United Way of Vermillion, Imagination Library and USD's Center for Academic and Global Engagement. For more information about the event, please contact Yamini Reddy at (605) 215-9693 or Dinesh Yamini.Reddy@coyotes.usd.edu.

Other "Vermillion Gives" events sponsored by United Way of Vermillion and USD's Center for Academic and Global Engagement include:
• Girl Scouts Lock-in Event — Nov. 14 from 7-10 p.m., at the Armory. Activities and engagement opportunities for troop members.

• VAAC Chili Event/Jalapeño Eating contest — Nov. 15 beginning at 6 p.m., at the Vermillion Arts Council. VAAC's Chili Blues/Cook-off and is specifically focused on helping VAAC reach university students.

• Center for Children and Families/Pinning with my Pal — Nov. 18 from 5:30-6:30 p.m., Center for Children and Families.

Provide parents and their children with some craft time together as a way to engage the parents in the kids' environment.

Yankton, Wagner To Receive CDBG Funds

PIERRE — Yankton and Wagner have both received block grants from the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program, it was announced Friday by the office of Gov. Dennis Daugaard.

A total of nearly $1.5 million in CDBG funds was awarded to three South Dakota communities. The money, awarded to Eagle Butte, Wagner and Yankton, will assist with projects totaling more than $8.8 million.

"South Dakota's CDBG program continues to assist community projects focused on improving the quality of life for our residents," said Gov. Daugaard. "This year alone, the CDBG program has helped 13 communities with projects totaling almost $28 million. Our community leaders are taking important steps to improve the health and quality of life for their residents. I'm pleased to award these funds to projects that are doing just that."

The CDBG awards include the following:

- Yankton will use a $412,000 grant towards the construction of the local Boys & Girls Club.
- Wagner will utilize a $515,000 grant to upgrade water and wastewater utilities.
- Eagle Butte will utilize a $515,000 grant to improve wastewater and storm sewer systems in the community.

The CDBG program provides local governments with funding to complete projects that improve living conditions. The CDBG program is funded through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development and administered by the Governor's Office of Economic Development.

For more information about the CDBG program and other financing programs offered through the GOED, visit www.sdreadytwork.com/.

USD To Host International Forum Nov. 17

VERMILLION — The University of South Dakota's International Forum will examine the topic "A New India?" when it meets at noon on Monday, Nov. 17, at USD's Farber Hall in Vermillion.

Under new Prime Minister Narendra Modi, India has accelerated economic development, including much improved infrastructure and greater encouragement of both domestic and foreign investments, is expected.

After a meeting with President Obama at the White House, closer defense and security ties were predicted (a special concern of the U.S. due to the greatly increased Chinese economic power and military assertiveness) in the Pacific Region. India is now the world's largest democracy.

These and related topics will be discussed by Dr. Eric Jepsen (Political Science and recent Fulbright Scholar in India); Dr. Srin Ragothaman (Accounting and native of India) and Dr. A.R. Venkatachalam (Dean of the Business School and a native of India). The moderator is Dr. Benno Wymar (Economics).

The event (part of USD's International Education Week) is sponsored by the Beacom School of Business. The forum is free and open to the public.
