NEW YORK (AP) - A memoir when you're still a teenager may seem premature, but not for Mo'ne Davis, the first female pitcher to win a Little League World Series game. "Mo'ne Davis: Remember My Name" will be released next March by HarperCollins Children's Books, the publisher told The Associated Press on Monday.

The honor roll student from Philadelphia became a sensation last summer after leading Mo'ne Davis Memoir Coming In March the Taney Dragons to a 4-0 victory over Nashville, when she was just 13.

> Known for her long braids and uncommon poise, she has since appeared on the cover of Sports Illustrated, thrown out the first pitch at a major league World Series game and starred in a car commercial directed by Spike Lee. In September, she donated her jersey to the baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown.

"When I joined an all-boys baseball team, my mom wasn't too happy," Mo'ne said in a statement issued Monday through HarperCollins. "I proved to her (and to me) that I could do anything I set my mind to. I'm just a girl that likes to play sports, and I'm excited to share my story with everyone," she said. "I hope it encourages people to take a chance and play the sports they want to play and not just the ones people expect them to play.

Contreras, a guard from San Francisco, Calif., scored a team high 24 points while shooting 6-for-11 and grabbed a careerhigh nine rebounds during USD's 83-78 win over Drake on Friday night. She also had a pair of assists and a steal in that game. She followed up with 17 points on 6-of-10 shooting and a pair of assists in USD's 68-60 loss at Kansas on Sunday.

Contreras shared honors with Fort Wayne forward Keshyra McCarver. The freshman had 22 points and 14 rebounds against Illinois.
