The Truth About The Old ‘Potato In The Tailpipe’ Trick

BY RAY MAGLIOZZI
King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Dear Car Talk:

When I was a kid, many years ago (wearing my Davy Crockett coonskin cap), my friends and I wondered what would happen if we crammed a potato into the exhaust pipe of a car. We figured the exhaust would build up and eventually shoot out the potato like a cannonball from a cannon. Fortunately, we never tried it. For one thing, we wouldn't be around to see what would happen. For another, our mothers wouldn't give us a potato. Now, all these many years later (and without the Davy Crockett cap), I'm still wondering: What would happen? Thanks! — Dave

It's not too late to try it, Dave. I'm sure you can find a Davy Crockett cap on eBay. And your mother's probably pretty old by now, so you probably can slip a potato by her at this point. Then you can try to lodge the potato in your wife's car.

not running when you "install" the potato, the car will start up and run briefly, and then stall.

If you want the potato to shoot out of the tailpipe, you'll have to be a little more deliberate. Try one of those little, red "new potatoes." You'll have to make it fit perfectly inside the tailpipe — not too loose, not too tight. Bring a potato peeler What'll happen — if the engine's running, and you secure the potato in there tightly — is that the car will stall. If you block the exhaust gases from getting out through the tailpipe, there will be no room for fresh air to get into the combustion chambers, and the engine won't be able to run.

Or, if the car is not running when you "install" the potato, the car will start up and run briefly, and then stall.

with you so you can make last-minute adjustments.

Then it should work like a peashooter. If you have a buddy punch the gas and rev the engine, that potato ought to come flying out pretty quickly.

So, if you try this at home, make sure you wear your Davy Crockett coonskin athletic protector. Have fun.

If you buy a used car, will you just be inheriting the previous owner's problem? Click and Clack dispel this and other myths about used cars in the pamphlet "How to Buy a Great Used Car: Secrets Only Your Mechanic Knows." ## Yankton Co. 4-H Recognizes Members, Volunteers

4-H is about more than the ribbons and awards. It's about the people, the experiences, the life-long skills and the memories. It's about being a role model, giving back and making the best better.

Once a year though, Yankton County 4-H does take time to celebrate the end of the 4-H year and awards 4-H members and volunteers for all of their hard work and accomplishments. This recognition event is held every year in November and took place on Sunday, Nov. 1.

Club awards were presented first. First year Cloverbud members (those ages 5-7), first year 4-H members (those ages 8-18), and graduating members (those who turned 19 this year) all received participation awards.

Project awards were also presented to 4-H club members. In order to earn these, a 4-H member needed to complete two years in a specific project area and give one county or two club level presentations in this project area.

Those 4-H members who competed on the State Consumer Decision Making Judging Team, the State Horticulture Judging Team, or the State Livestock Judging Team also received rosettes.

Other awards presented included: Junior Leaders Recognition Awards, South Dakota State Fair Awards, 4-H Leaders' Service Awards, Record Book Awards, Youth-In-Action Awards and Achievement Days Awards.

Special awards handed out included: the 4-H Friend of the Year award, Volunteer of the Year award, Leader of the Year award, Lorraine Schwarz Eager Beaver Award sponsored by Bruce and Donna Schwarz, Perseverance Award sponsored by Brian and Kameron Gradert of Crop Dusters, LLC, Yankton County Livestock Feeders Scholarship and Outstanding 4-H Members awards.
