The Geese Weren't Hurt, Neither Was The Car

BY TOM AND RAY MAGLIOZZI
www.cartalk.com

Dear Tom and Ray:
I was driving on a rural road and rounded a bend where there was a family of geese crossing: Mama, Papa and five goslings. I successfully slammed on my brakes, and they crossed the road safely. The thing is, I really, really smoked the tires, and perhaps the brakes as well. It reminded me of the drag races when the guys smoke their tires to make them stick to the road better. Should I have someone take a look at them? I was 20 miles from home, and the brakes worked fine the rest of the way. I also wonder if the tires could have been damaged by the skid.

TOM: No, forget about it. Brakes are designed to be used that way when necessary.
RAY: That's the limit of their ability. You don't want to use anything at the absolute limit of its ability all the time — whether it's brakes, a cooling system or your brother's limited brain capacity.

TOM: If you used the brakes like that every time you stopped the car, you'd overheat them and warp the rotors. But slamming on the brakes one time, or once in a while, doesn't do any damage at all.

RAY: Same with smoking the tires. If you don't have anti-lock brakes, you probably skidded and took a little rubber off a couple of your tires. That may have created small, temporary flat spots. But those certainly went away as you drove. So as long as it's not the way you drive every day, there's nothing to worry about.

TOM: So forget about it, Mary. The brakes and tires did what they were supposed to do: They stopped the car quickly when you needed them to. And any minor, temporary wear and tear you put on them is more than offset by the good karma you gained from the goose gods.

YANKTON LIBRARY

Be Thankful For The Yankton Community Library

BY KATHY JACOBS
Yankton Public Library

Have you visited the Yankton Community Library lately? Did you know we are open 62 hours per week and our online catalog is available 24/7? Did you know we now have downloadable books for all ages? Have you used one of our computers or accessed our WiFi recently? Did you know that, on the average, we add 375 new items to our collection each month, we subscribe to 150 magazine and newspaper titles, and we have fifteen electronic databases for research with free access to every one? Did you know we have all of the old Yankton newspapers on microfilm and they are available to the public? If you answered no to any of these questions, you need to visit the library today!

A library card is one of the most cost effective investments you can make for you and your family. If you own a home or business in the City of Yankton, a library card is free. If you own a home in Yankton County, your cost is $5.00 per household. Any-one living outside of Yankton County and not owning property in Yankton County pays $40.00 for a household card, or $3.33 per month to have access to the over 70,000 items in our collection plus all of our electronic resources. That is money well spent!

Programs at the library are free as well. We have programs for all ages of people, birth through senior citizens. You are never too old to enjoy a book club or a Humanities speaker. There's something for everyone at the library!

Our regular story times meet on Mondays at 6:30 p.m., and Wednesdays and Thursdays at 10:15 a.m. Please note that we will not meet on Monday, October 31. Baby and Me Lap Sit will run through November 16 and is held on Mondays at 5:30 p.m. and Wednesdays at 11 a.m. Toddler Time also runs through November 17 and meets on Thursdays at 11 a.m.

Join us for after a school movie when we show Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows, Part 2 on November 17, at 3:45 p.m. Because of the Thanksgiving holiday, only one movie will be shown in November.

Teens continue to enjoy programs with the Yankton County Youth Development Program Assistant Lauren Fosheim, Yankton County Extension. November's programs are Teen Bridge Building on November 1 and Teen Boat Floaters on November 15, with both programs beginning at 3:45 p.m. There is a limit of twenty participants per program and teens are asked to register in advance.

Our November 9 Brown Bag is "Our Tax $$$ @ Work" with Duane Johnson from our IT Department. This will be our last Brown Bag program.

Readers Anonymous will discuss Memory Keeper's Daughter by Kim Edwards, on November 8. This club, which is always open to new members, meets the second Tuesday of each month, at 1 p.m.

Between the Lines book club will discuss The Teacher's Funeral by Richard Peck on Tuesday, November 15, 5:30 p.m. This book club, which meets on the third Tuesday of each month at 5:30 p.m., is open to new members as well.

Our November Food for Fines item is spaghetti sauce and will run from November 12-20, with all donations going to the Contact Center. There is a crucial need for food items at this time of year, so pay off your fines by donating spaghetti sauce.

The library is experiencing space issues and we feel it's time to begin talking about them. Therefore, we will be offering public tours on specific days and times. Next month's tours will be on November 10, 4 p.m.; November 15, 7 p.m.; and November 30, 10:30 a.m. The tour will take a little under an hour and participants will be able to ask questions as we move through the library.

The library is holding a used book sale beginning Thursday, November 3, 1 p.m. through Sunday, November 6, 5 p.m. We have reasonably priced items in all formats and genres and for all age groups.

For health reasons, the library will no longer furnish headsets for people using the computers. Instead, we encourage you to bring your headsets from home or purchase earbuds at the library's circulation desk.

The library will be closed on Friday, November 11, for Veteran's Day and Thursday and Friday, November 24-25, for Thanksgiving.

Friends of the Library will hold their monthly book sale on Saturday, November 5, from 10-12:30 p.m. Friends is happy to accept gently used books for their sales.

Did you know that in 2010, the library held 56 programs for adults with a total attendance of 1,186!

You can contact the library at 605-668-5275 or e-mail me at kjacobs@sdln.net. View us online at <http://www.yanktonsd.org/yankton/library/index.php> or visit us on Facebook by searching Yankton Community Library.

Stevens Named Interim Chair Of Pediatrics At USD School Of Medicine

VERMILLION — Dennis C. Stevens, M.D., has been named interim chair of the Department of Pediatrics of the Sanford School of Medicine of the University of South Dakota, effective Oct. 1.

Stevens has practiced in the field of neonatology in Sioux Falls, S.D. since 1980. Throughout his career, Stevens has published widely the results of his research, especially that involving the impact of the neonatal intensive care nursery environment upon the developing premature newborn and family. He has also successfully authored a number of federal grants through HRSA (valued at nearly $10 million), which have funded an ongoing educational program regarding the evaluation and ongoing treatment of infants and young children with disabilities and special health care needs.

"I came to the School of Medicine over 30 years ago as a young academic clinician," Stevens said. "I am honored and very happy to serve the School and the Department of Pediatrics during this time when many transitions will take place."

For his work in the field of disabilities, Stevens was awarded the Outstanding Achievement Award by the Association of University Centers on Disabilities in Washington, D.C. in 2010. In 2007, he received the Pioneer Award from the South Dakota Perinatal Association for his work in neonatal/perinatal medicine.

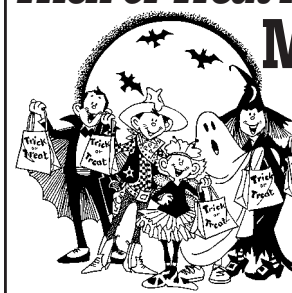

Stevens received a Bachelor of Arts in chemistry from Indiana University Bloomington in 1971, his Doctor of Medicine from Indiana University School of Medicine in 1974 and his Master of Science in clinical research design and statistical analysis from the University of Michigan in 1993. He completed residency training in pediatrics and neonatal/perinatal medicine at the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital for Children of the Indiana University School of Medicine in 1980.
