Make A Difference Date Slated For Oct. 27

Each year on the fourth Saturday in October, volunteers from coast to coast vow to improve their communities on Make A Difference Day, a national day of service. On Oct. 27, local Modern Woodmen of America members will join this nationwide effort. Members of the Yankton Modern Woodmen 18126 will make a difference by painting book shelves, collecting books at 903 W. 14th Street to place at United Way, City of Yankton Library and Modern Woodmen office for children ages 0-16 to take and leave books for their reading pleasure. Modern Woodmen groups nationwide will help their communities and individuals in need by delivering light bulbs and stationery to shut-ins, conducting winter clothing drives, donating books to local libraries and other activities. Coordinated by local Modern Woodmen members, chapters provide opportunities to connect through social activities and volunteer projects. Youth service clubs provide young Modern Woodmen members with opportunities to volunteer, be patriotic, learn new skills, make friends and have fun. "On Make A Difference Day, our members can look forward to feeling good by doing good and being part of a nationally recognized event," says Tammy Matuska, local Modern Woodmen contact person.

Yankton property owners are reminded to trim trees that over-hang sidewalks and streets adjacent to their property. City ordinance requires a 10 foot clearance over sidewalks and a 12 foot clearance over streets and alleys.

Maintaining these clearances may take multiple trimmings annually. Low hanging tree branches reduce visibility for drivers, damage vehicles, make it difficult to clear streets, and damage snowplows and school buses.

Please take a few minutes today to measure your trees, and if needed, trim any branches not meeting the clearance requirement.

Tree trimmings can be dropped off free of charge at the Transfer Station at 1200 West 23rd Street from 10/15/12 through 10/27/2012 8:00 a.m.-3:45 p.m. Monday-Saturday (excluding Wednesday evenings).

For more information: Checkout the Tree Trimming Guide available in the Community Development section at www.cityofyankton.org or give us call at 605-668-5251 if you have questions about your street trees.

contraception, which is why we made sure churches and other houses of worship, they don't have to provide it, they don't have to pay for it," Obama continued. "We worked with the Catholic hospitals and universities to find a solution that protects both religious liberty and a woman's health. Approximately 140 people gathered at the Yankton rally with signs that read "Stand Up For Religious Freedom," "Stop Obama's HHS Mandate" and "Vote For Life And Liberty." As the group sang songs, prayed and listened to speeches, cars occasionally honked it support. In one instance, a motorist yelled "Pro-choice!" at the crowd. Holding an American flag, Father Ken Lulf of St. Benedict's parish in Yankton said churches are having the right to exercise their conscience taken away from them. "The crux of the issue is one of freedom — the separation of church and state," he said. Nor can it be argued that people who oppose the mandate are attempting to impose religious beliefs on others, Lulf added. "I don't see anywhere where it says that we're telling people they can't buy birth control," he said. "It isn't an issue where we're trying to change the law for the masses as much as we're trying to protect our rights and consciences." Dozens of lawsuits have been filed alleging that the ACA is unconstitutional. Last month, U.S. District Judge Carol Jackson dismissed a lawsuit by Frank O'Brien and his business, O'Brien Industrial Holdings, LLC (OIH). Although the business is secular, O'Brien is a Catholic who tries to operate his business in ways that are consistent with his religion. The lawsuit protested the contraception mandate. In her judgment, Jackson

3. Yankton Area Progressive Growth is expected to launch a new, five-year capital campaign soon that would fund future economic development efforts in the area. Yankton County committed $100,000 to the last campaign. Would you support contributing funds to a new campaign? Why or why not?

I support YAPG and I believe they have done great things for Yankton County. We can get the most effective results for our tax dollars by supporting an organization that is already established and successful. What amount we pledge will need to be decided as a commission discussion, and must fit within the budget.

4. What are the biggest challenges facing the county in the next four years, and how will you work to address them?

Our roads and how to improve them without raising taxes is a challenging problem. I am committed to finding a way. We cannot grow our community without them.

5. Closing thoughts?

I have enjoyed being your County Commissioner for the past six years, and would like to continue working for you. Please vote Nov. 6.

75 YEARS AGO

- A parade, fully eight blocks in length and headed by high school girls' drill team and the high school band, entertained the downtown district with one of the best school parades that has been seen in Yankton in years. The parade was led by Clifford Larson and Betty Lewis who were acclaimed Chief Arickara and Princess Arickara at an enthusiastic pep meeting held last night.
- J. J. Goetz, county treasurer, urges that taxpayers bring in their last tax receipt when paying their taxes as a means of saving much time in giving the service. With the last tax receipt in the hands of the treasurer it is possible to turn to the proper page in the proper book and find the amount of the tax to be paid and to issue a receipt for the payment.

Monday, October 22, 1962

- The first production of the 1962-63 drama season at Yankton College, "The Glass Menagerie," a play by Tennessee Williams, will be presented at 8:15 o'clock Friday and Saturday in Forbes Hall auditorium. Told in the form of a dream, "The Glass Menagerie" depicts the story of a son who breaks his ties with his mother who is a faded remnant of southern gentility, and a sister who remains at home but escapes reality in her world of little glass ornaments.

25 YEARS AGO

- Interest in the annual S.D. Amateur Baseball Association Hall-of-Fame banquet, which will be held at the Lesterville Legion Hall Sunday at 6 p.m., is at a high level in this area, according to the dinner committee. - The Sixth annual Outstanding Young Career Woman program was hosted by the Yankton Federation of Business and Professional Women to honor young working women in the community for their contributions. Marla Henderson was chosen as the 1988 YCW of the BPW during National Business Women's Week.
