The Yankton High School Theatre Department brings to "The Perils Of Lulu" to the Summit Center stage starting tonight (Friday). Some of those perils include (clockwise from above), Lulu (Susanna Kinsley) staving off the romantic overtures of her devoted boyfriend Lance (Cole Moderegger); Lulu and the hard-boiled Lenny (Gabriell Swenson) dealing with a sinking ship; and Lulu coping not only with the nefarious Russian agent Ludmilla (Gretta Hans) but also with a hungry shark. Disasters, monsters and spies. These are just a few of the challenges Yankton theater goers will see a young character face in Yankton High School's production of William Gleason's comedy, "The Perils of Lulu."

Director Keith Goeden said the play is inspired by old-time radio.

"It's a spoof of the old radio shows from the 1930s and '40s," he said. "This girl is working on a science experiment that goes awry and the next thing you know, she's dealing with everything from King Kong to a tornado, a ship capsizing, Russian secret agents and all sorts of bedlam like that."

The show will be presented Friday, Oct. 18; Saturday, Oct. 19; and Monday, Oct. 21, at the YHS/Summit Activities Center Theatre.

Showtimes are all 7 p.m. Goeden said the show includes 39 student actors and crew.

Playing Lulu is senior Susanna Kinsley, who said she's been happy with how the play has been coming together so far.

"It's coming along really good," Kinsley said. "Everybody's worked really hard."

Goeden said the desire to get more students involved in production drove him to go with Perils.

"Often times, most plays are designed for small casts," he said. "When you want to get as many kids involved as possible, sometimes it's difficult to find a show."

He added that he has used the play as a
