

Doug Fister Keeps Nats Alive In NLDS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Doug Fister pitched seven shutout innings and the Washington Nationals took advantage of Madison Bumgarner's one off-target throw, staving off elimination in the NL Division Series with a 4-1 win against the San Francisco Giants on Monday.

Fister dazzled again in San Francisco, helping the Nationals cut their deficit to 2-1 in the best-of-five series and ending the Giants 10-game postseason winning streak that started with Game 5 of the 2012 NL Championship Series against St. Louis.

Washington scored two runs on Bumgarner's throwing error in the seventh inning to end the ace's 21-inning scoreless streak. Bryce Harper punctuated the victory with a solo homer in the ninth.

"Really it came down to every pitch," Fister said. "Fortunately a ball bounced our way."

Drew Storen allowed to the first two batters to reach in the bottom of the ninth but shook off his postseason struggles, allowing a run in closing it out as Washington forced a Game 4 on Tuesday night.

Now, the 96-win Nationals will send left-hander Gio Gonzalez up against San Francisco right-hander Ryan Vogelsong.

On a day Bumgarner had been nearly untouchable, his 21-inning postseason scoreless streak ended on his own miscue. Now, the Giants must wait another day to try to eliminate the Nationals, who trail 2-1 in the best-of-five series.

"They were running a screen," Lightner said of the pick. "(Tim) Cross jumped up and hit the ball down, and it landed right in my hands."

The game's final scoring drive consisted of three runs, all by Kuchta, who took the ball the final 22 yards for a score early in the fourth quarter.

After Aberdeen Central had gashed the Bucks defense in the first half, Yankton was able to keep the Golden Eagle running game in check.

"We watched a lot of film on their quarterback," Kuchta said. "The read got to us in the first half, so we watched a lot of film and tried to focus on him."

Strahl finished 9-20 passing for 112 yards, one touchdown and two interceptions. Both picks were in the first half. Strahl also rushed for 59 yards and two touchdowns, one in each half.

Kuchta finished with a game-high 73 yards and a score for the Bucks. Levi Kabella, who was injured in the first half of the contest, had a 46-yard touchdown catch.

Quarterback Jacob Goehring rushed for 101 yards and a touchdown for Aberdeen Central. He was also 6-15 passing for 48 yards, one touchdown and one interception.

The Bucks held Goehring to 25 yards in the second half, most of which came on two 10-yard runs.

"We just played better assignment football," Likness said of containing Goehring in the second half. "We weren't trying to do too much. Everyone did their own gap, their own assignment."

Defensively, Matt Fitzgerald included four for loss, to lead the Yankton defense. Ryan Sternhagen made six tackles, including two for loss.

Greyson Neuhart led the Aberdeen Central defense with seven tackles, including three for loss. Zeke Wills and Layne Tieszen had first-half interceptions, with Wills returning his for a touchdown.

With the Aberdeen Central game no longer looming, the Bucks take the rest of a short week to prepare to travel to Pierre. That preparation did not wait until today (Tuesday) at practice.

"On the way back we're watching film," Kuchta said. "Hopefully we'll get focused on them in the next two days of practice."

The Governors (3-2) will be the third opponent in an eight-day span for the Bucks, but will require just as much focus as Watertown and Aberdeen Central, if not more.

"We need to understand that Pierre is legit," Likness said. "We have to know that we have a big game on Friday."

vers at the Pan Pacific Championships in Australia. He had retired after the 2012 London Olympics, having won a record 18 gold medals and 22 medals in four games.

Phelps' monthly funding stipend of $1,750 will be halted for six months, costing him a total of $10,500. That is small change compared to the millions he earns through several major endorsements, including Aqua Sphere, Subway, Under Armour, Omega and Master Spas.

"Michael accepts USA Swimming's sanctions," according to a statement from his representatives at Octagon. "He has apologized for his actions and, as he shared yesterday, is taking steps to address them."
