

MMC To Offer Theology Class

'Failing to Bother to Love: Looking Behind the rules of Catholic Moral Theology" is a class being offered by Mount Marty College this fall. Class dates are Oct. 17, 24, 31; and Nov. 7, 14 and 21, with each class running from 11 a.m.-12:30 p.m. The class will be taught by Dr. Helen Ciernick. The class will take place in the Mount Marty College Science and Nursing Complex room 205.

This course explores Catholic moral theology from its foundational experience of God's love and the Christian's

Using the work of moral theologian James Keenan, S.J., we will begin by examining the experience of love before exploring the relationship between love, conscience, sin and suffering. Students will walk away with a deeper understanding of Christian love that will, in turn, deepen their understanding of sin and why a behavior is considered sinful.

Jesus And Buddah Talk Slated Oct. 18

The public is invited to take part in this continuing conversation where we explore the "shared spiritual landscape" of Jesus and the Buddha. The next session is set for Saturday, Oct. 18, at Christ Episcopal Church, 517 Douglas, Yankton. It runs from 9 a.m.-noon.

Participants will enjoy learning from Dr. James Finley, who practices both Christianity and Buddhism. Finley, in his previous video presentations, explored the First and Second Noble Truths of the Buddha's teachings, the nature of human suffering and its causes. This was followed by a deep look at The Third and Fourth Noble Truths, the liberation of suffering through the practice of The Eight-Fold Path.

On Oct. 18, Finley will illumine the "shared spiritual landscape" of the Buddhist understanding of Nirvana with the Christian mystical experience of Christ or "kingdom of God"

The morning will include brief meditations and opportunities for discussion.

Kids Talk About God

How Can Christians Be The Salt Of The Earth And The Light Of The World?

BY CAREY KINSOLVING AND FRIENDS

"I won't call names or hit people," says Heather, 8.

That's a start. Being the light of the world doesn't call for knocking everyone else's lights out. Jesus had something different in mind when he told his disciples: "You are the salt of the earth" and "You are the light of the world" (Matthew 5:13-14)

"I could give kitties and other things," says Brian, 10. "After that, I could tell people to believe in Jesus to have eternal life.

This sounds like a great strategy to influence cat lovers. 'To set a good example, you could be a good sport," says Faith, 11. Keep the big picture in view. If we win or lose with equal grace, we'll be able to do other things Faith suggests: "I could talk to people about God, invite them to church and pray when bad things happen.'

If we exhibit bad sportsmanship, we'll forfeit opportunities to speak words of life into people's souls. How can winning a game compare with influencing one person for eternity?

"I could be a good example of salt and light by being a good neighbor," says Janet, 11. "We can volunteer to help other people when they need

In today's mobile society, a neighbor may be a co-worker who lives across town. Pollster George Gallup Jr. reports that Americans are lonely. Modern life offers many advantages, but a sense of community isn't one of them. Before television invaded America, people used to talk to each other at home. Imagine that! The average American spends more than four hours a day watching mindless dribble.

Just imagine the shock of your family and neighbors when you pull away from television long enough to acknowledge their presence. Jesus designed Christians to be the light of the world, not the afterglow of a television

You could stand up to bullies and tell them God doesn't like it when they hurt other people," says Chloe, 11.

Jesus confronted the worst kind of bullies – religious tyrants. He reserved the toughest language of his ministry for them. Of the scribes and Pharisees, he said: "For they bind heavy burdens, hard to bear, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers. But all their works, they do to be seen by men" (Matthew 23:4-5)

The bullies eventually plotted to get rid of Jesus because the light of his life and teaching kept shining into their darkness. Oh, how they must have congratulated themselves when the Nazarene died on a cross between two criminals. Their plot appeared to succeed until an angel announced at an empty tomb, "He is not here; for he is risen!" (Matthew 28:6).

Because Jesus rose from the dead, Jake, 7, would be salt and light by being a "missionary to people around the world and helping people up when they fall." Did you know that everyone has fallen in the sense that all have sinned? Let your salt season and your light shine by telling someone that Jesus came to rescue us from the "fall."

If Jesus is the source of your life, all the world's temptations to find life apart from him seem bland. When the light of Jesus shines clearly though a life, some will run to the light in wonder and others will flee or oppose it because they love darkness.

Memorize this truth: "You are the salt of the earth" (Matthew 5:13a). 'You are the light of the world" (Matthew 5:14a).

Area Youth Group Trick-Or-Treats For Donations

The Yankton United Church of Christ Jr. High Youth Group, their families and other families from the church will be Trick-or-Treating for UNICEF on Sunday, Oct. 26, from 3-4:30 p.m.

They will be going door to door asking for donations in neighborhoods in Yankton with orange UNICEF donation boxes and saying "Trickor-Treat UNICEF!" Residents are asked to be prepared for them to come to your door and donate to this cause as the Jr. High Youth Group works to raise money to help children around the world. Your donation can help provide kids in need with health care, clean water, nutrition, education, emergency relief and more.

UNICEF was founded in 1946 and has always put children first, helping to save more children's lives than any other humanitarian organization. UNICEF cares about making the world better for kids. That's why, when you donate to the U.S. fund for UNICEF, they make sure that 91.2 cents of every dollar spent goes directly to help children.

Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF began in 1950 as a way to help kids who need more than candy. Since then, children all over America have gone door-to-door on Halloween with UNICEF collection boxes calling out "Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF!" They have raised more than $170 million for the U.S. fund for UNICEF since 1950.
