10+8NOTICE OF HEARING FOR REISSUING THE GENERAL WATER POLLUTION CONTROL PERMIT FOR CONCENTRATED ANIMAL

FEEDING OPERATIONS The Department of Environment and Natural Resources is announcing that the Division of Environmental Services Feedlot Permit Program is recommending the Secretary reissue the general surface water pollution control permit regulating manure containment and land application from concentrated animal feeding operations.

The proposed permit outlines who is required to obtain coverage under the general permit; permit application requirements, the processes for issuing permit coverage, manure containment design, construction, operation, and maintenance requirements, the surface and ground water protection measures, nutrient management planning requirements, compliance responsibilities, and other general requirements. This permit streamlines and clarifies the departments requirements and expectations for new, expanding, and existing concentrated animal feeding operations in South Dakota. This permit does not revoke or revise any local laws and ordinances.

Concentrated animal feeding operations are required to obtain permit coverage under a general or individual water pollution control permit by South Dakota Codified Law (SDCL) Chapter 34A-2-36.2. To determine if an operation is required to obtain permit coverage, a producer must first determine if they are operating an animal feeding operation as defined by the permit. If they meet this definition, they then need to determine if they are operating a concentrated animal feeding operation. The maximum number of confined animals, the length of confinement, and whether pollutants are discharged to waters of the state are some of the criteria used to determine whether an animal feeding operation is a concentrated animal feeding opera-

Local governments may also require animal feeding operations to obtain permit coverage. A contested case hearing on the divisions recommendation has been scheduled before the Secretary on December 16, 2015, at 9:00 a.m. at the Matthew Training Center in the Joe Foss Building.
