Late Scores Lift NWU Past MMC Women

BY DYLAN HUGGINS sports@yankton.net

Nebraska Wesleyan scored a pair of late goals to beat Mount Marty College in Great Plains Athletic Conference women's soccer action on Saturday at Easton Field. Mount Marty head soccer coach Peter Shepherd said that the girls took care of the ball when they had their opportunities. "When we had the ball, we were able to connect on some passes and start working it up," Shepherd said. "In this past week, I think we've done a better job of attacking with a team effort and that allows for more opportunities when everyone is helping." Nebraska Wesleyan had two different players to each score a goal in the game. Maggie Bianco and Amber Johnson scored the goals for Nebraska Wesleyan. In the loss for Mount Marty, Courtney True had eight saves. True said that despite the loss, she can see that her team is progressing in terms of how her team is playing throughout the game. "In the beginning of the season we had lapses throughout all 90 minutes and now we're starting to play 80 minutes, but we need to play all the way through," True said. "Just keeping the intensity up through the full 90 and so it's just about pushing each other and not giving up."

JAMES D. CIMBUREK/P&D Mount Marty's Megan Roth goes up to head the ball during the Lancers' women's soccer matchup with Nebraska Wesleyan on Saturday at Easton Field.

With the loss, the Lancers fell to 1-9 and are 0-6 in conference play. The Mount Marty women's soccer team will travel to Briar Cliff on October 13. Follow @dhugg23 on Twitter.

Prairie Wolves Down MMC Men 7-1

BY DYLAN HUGGINS sports@yankton.net

Nebraska Wesleyan came to Yankton on Saturday and put on an offensive show as they beat the Mount Marty men's soccer team 7-1 in Great Plains Athletic Conference action. MMC head soccer coach Peter Shepherd said that he felt the team started off well. "We played some good pressure and made sure they were shifting correctly," Shepherd said. "The aggression was there and that's what we need because it is a physical sport." In the win for Nebraska Wesleyan, Brady Blazek recorded a hat trick with three goals and Will Weber scored two goals for Nebraska Wesleyan as well. Nebraska Wesleyan scored 3 goals in the first half and four in the second half. Alex Olsen of Mount Marty scored the lone goal for the Lancers. Olsen mentioned that he thought the team played with effort in today's match. "I don't think we really ever gave up and we just kept on playing our hardest," Olsen said. "When we do get a chance to score we need to get it in the back of the net."

JAMES D. CIMBUREK/P&D Mount Marty's Cortez Jordan makes a move to get past Nebraska Wesleyan's Jordan Cahill during their Great Plains Athletic Conference men's soccer match on Saturday at Easton Field.

With the loss, Mount Marty drops to 0-11 on the season. The Lancers are 0-6 in conference play. "We just want to see them work together because at times it just seems like we're so split up," Shepherd said. The Lancers next match will be at Briar Cliff on October 13. Follow @dhugg23 on Twitter.

8-5 edge, briefly let MMC regain the lead at 12-11, then went on a 5-1 run to take control of the set. A 5-1 run that included a kill and an ace serve by Kloth helped MMC take control of a back-and-forth third set. In the fourth set, a 7-1 run surge by the Lancers gave them a 20-15 edge and the Lancers held on for victory. "We have to play with our hearts, trust in our skills to push through that," Kloth said. In the 25-21, 25-18, 24-26, 25-14 victory over Grace earlier in the day, MMC got 18 kills and three ace serves from Kloth, and 10 kills and three assisted blocks from Cattle. Kuchta had seven kills, Dysthe had 27 assists and Jaixen had 14 assists for the Lancer offense. They had 28 digs, Dysthe 23, Taylor Murtha 19 and Jaixen 11 to lead the floor defense. Cross finished with five blocks (one solo) in the win. For Grace, Taylor Thompson had 16 kills and 11 digs, and Kara Peters had 14 kills to lead the way. Amber Carlson finished with 38 assists and 12 digs. Chloe Corbett had 32 digs, Becca Entz had seven assisted blocks and Ariana Zuccaro had 16 digs to lead the defense. The Saturday sweep ended a five-match losing streak for the Lancers, a skid that included three 3-2 losses. "We've played some very good volleyball at times," Hebenstreit said. "We've seen glimmers where we play to speed. We have to expand those times where we play well." Mount Marty's JV went 3-0 on the weekend, beating Grace 25-22, 23-25, 18-16, and Presentation 25-17, 25-16. The Lancers beat Mayville State on Friday. PRESENTATION 3, GRACE 1: Karly Fuhrman and Maria Nightingale each had 11 kills as Presentation downed Grace 25-18, 20-25, 25-12, 25-22 at the MMC Classic on Saturday afternoon. Maddie Goetz had 22 assists and Abigail Wahl had 20 assists and 12 digs for the victorious Saints. Taylor Orin had 28 digs and Kaitlyn Boesi had 25 digs for the Presentation floor defense.
