VERMILLION – Audrey Reeg had a big night for South Dakota, with 19 kills and 17 digs, as the Coyotes defeated IUPUI 25-21, 21-25, 25-22, 25-16 in Summit League volleyball action Friday in the Coyote Den inside the Dakota Dome.

“It was huge, out of a loss on Tuesday we were really disappointed in,” USD coach Leanne Williamson said. “Audrey Reeg has been pretty steady for us, averaging almost five kills a set, and still almost hitting .300.”

USD bounced back from a bad loss to South Dakota State on Tuesday.

“I think that we came out today and we played our game and kind of make IUPUI play our style of volleyball a little bit more,” Williamson said. “It’s a big turnaround, it’s almost a complete 180 from Tuesday, and that shows a lot about what our team is.”

For USD, Brittany Jessen led the game with 58 assists, and Kelsey Biltoft led with five total blocks.

For IUPUI, Kaitlyn Hickey tied Reeg with a game-high 19 kills. Courtney Halter was the leader with 22 digs. Alexis Mapes and Ashley Hacker led the team with 29 and 25 assists, respectively.

The Coyotes came out hot in the first set, starting out with a 5-0 lead that they would not give up. IUPUI would tie the set at 20, but following a timeout, USD would put four straight points on the board with Haley Jorgensen finishing of the set with a kill. Reeg had seven kills in the set, including two in a row after the 20-20 tie.

IUPUI would duplicate what USD did in the second set, only trailing in the set at 2-1. The Jaguars’ Hickey recorded eight kills in the set.

A comeback was needed for the Coyotes to win the third. USD called a timeout down 19-14 and immediately got two blocks from Biltoft. They would then get three more blocks and a pair of kills each from Reeg and Lindsey Brown to take the set 25-22.

The fourth set was all USD as it would not trail again after starting out with another big lead at 5-to-1. Reeg and Brown each notched four kills in the set, while Biltoft added two blocks and three kills.

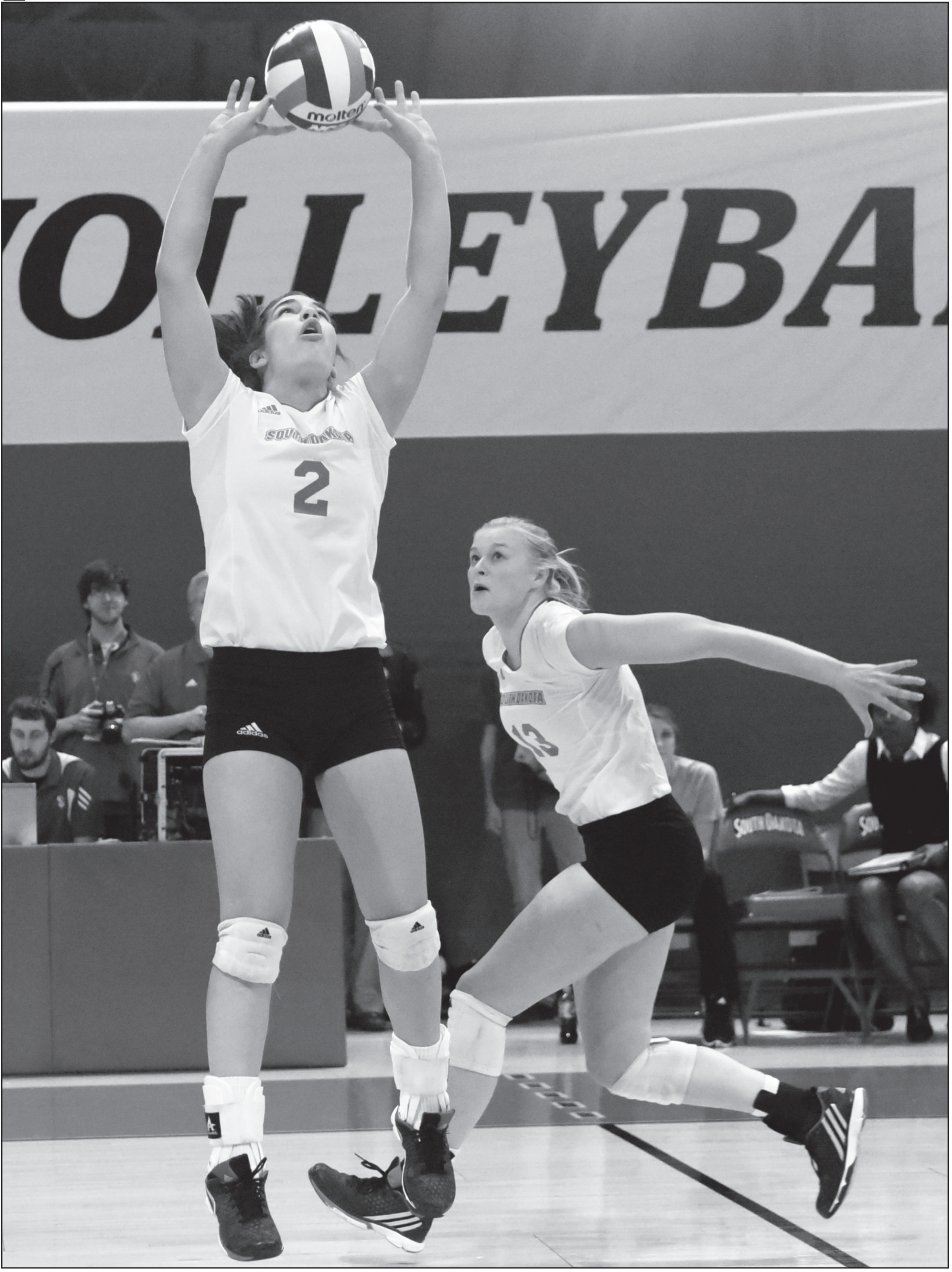

“I always think we are going to put ourselves into that position to win,” Williamson said. “I tried to keep them motivated and not be satisfied with a few point lead, but to push the lead and make it tougher on them and keep earning our points and not rely on them to give us our points.”

The Coyotes finished with four player in double digits for kills. Reeg led with 19, while Jorgensen added 12, Hayley Dotseth had 11, and Brown finished with 10.

“Lindsey Brown had a great night, 10 kills, .455, with no errors, I mean that’s huge for us,” Williamson said. “Haley Jorgensen on the right side again, she had a big match a week ago on Sunday. She struggled on Tuesday, and came back today and hit .333.”

With the win the Coyotes improved to 2-5 in the Summit League, while IUPUI, which started the day second in the conference, fell to 5-2. USD will look to continue the success today (Saturday) against Fort Wayne at home.

Paula, Fiegen Named To SDSU All-Time Top 50 List

BROOKINGS —Former female student-athletes with accolades such as all-American, conference player of the year, NCAA champion, Academic All-American and Hall of Famer are among the Top 50 Female Student-Athletes to be honored Nov. 13 at the 50 Years of Women’s Athletics luncheon at McCrory Gardens on the South Dakota State campus.

The Top 50, selected by voting on GoJacks.com and the 50 Years of Women’s Athletics Committee, include all 12 members of the Jackrab-bit Sports Hall of Fame, 5 individual national champions and 7 Academic All-Americans. Additionally, the Top 50 have been named All-Americans 56 times.

Yankton native Ketty (Cornemann) Paula was named to the list as an all-around athlete. Primarily known for her basketball prowess, she also competed in volleyball and track and field at SDSU. On the basketball court, she was a team captain for two seasons and was a part of WNIT and NCAA Tournament runs for the Jacks.

She is currently an assistant coach at South Dakota Mines.

Parkston native Kelli Fiegen was a dominant force on the volleyball court for the Jackrabbits from 2008-2012, finishing her career sixth on the team’s all-time kills list with 1,407. The 2010 Summit League Player of the Year, she still holds several team records, including a four-set match record .773 hitting percentage against Belmont in a match in 2011, and the top-three single-match hitting percentage marks for five-set matches. She is also the Jacks’ all-time career blocks leader with 518.
