New South Dakota License Plate Design For 2016 Unveiled

PIERRE — An image of the new license plate design for the 2016 South Dakota license plate reissue was unveiled today.

The current plate design has identified South Dakota motor vehicles since 2006. Many existing plates are succumbing to age, damage and loss of reflectivity, all of which can create readability problems.

The design was a cooperative effort led by Gov. Dennis Daugaard, the Department of Revenue Motor Vehicle Division and the South Dakota Department of Tourism and reflects a partnership in promoting South Dakota. The new license plates will be issued beginning Jan. 1, 2016.

Department of Revenue Secretary Andy Gerlach said,

"The 2016 reissue will add up to approximately 1.5 million non-commercial vehicle and motorcycle plates consisting of the standard plate, the emblem plate, personalized plates, amateur radio, low-speed vehicles and the commercial radio plate."

The license plate reissue contract was awarded to Intellectual Technology, Inc., (ITI) from Fort Wayne, Ind., through a March 2015 request for proposal (RFP) issued by the Motor Vehicle Division. The RFP requested assistance to the Motor Vehicles Division with the implementation of a plate on demand system. ITI will oversee plate production along with servicing a fulfillment center in Brandon to control quality, manage inventory and distribute license plates and annual vehicle registration cards through an on-demand system. The plate on-demand system will reduce material waste while providing a higher level of customer service.

The license plates will continue to be made at Pheasantland Industries located in the South Dakota State Penitentiary in Sioux Falls.

The new plate design will not be available until Jan. 1, 2016, and can be acquired during a regular vehicle registration renewal period from several convenient methods: local county treasurer's office, self-service terminals (SSTs) throughout the state, and from the Motor Vehicle customer portal at <https://MySDCars.sd.gov>.

Yankton City Commission To Review Survey

From P&D Staff Reports

The Yankton City Commission will review city survey results when it convenes at 7 p.m. Monday night at the Technical Education Center, 12300 W. 21st St.

Commissioners will also consider a base salary adjustment for city employees and introduce revisions to the animal ordinance.

Also, commissioners will hold their first-ever work session at 6 p.m. Downtown Yankton is the lone item on the agenda, and no action will be taken. The work session is open to the public.

During Friday's media briefing, City Manager Amy Nelson also reported that Yankton had another month of strong sales tax returns in September, with the total up 6.07 percent from the same month a year ago.

Nelson also reported that the THM levels in Yankton's water supply on rising. While the city is still in compliance with regulations, it may be out of compliance by next summer if the trend continues. She said THM is not harmful to residents, but it is a matter the city will work to address.
