• Increased interest in girls' athletic activities at Yankton high school is seen as the result of a conference held Thursday between the officers and board of control of the Girls' Athletic Association of Yankton and Miss Margaret Hibbard, physical education director. The proposed revision would make it possible for the girls to gain points in all types of recreative activity.

The Yankton boy was shooting a .22 caliber rifle from three positions-prone, kneeling and standing.
• There were 182 revenue passengers leaving the Yankton airport on North Central Airline flights during August, an increase from both the 149 in July and 160 in August a year ago. There were 179 incoming passengers this August, compared with 129 in July and 149 in August last year.

• The first annual Lewis and Clark Boat Parade will start at noon Monday from the Lewis and Clark Marina. Hap Reinders, general manager and vice president of the Midco Marina Service Inc., believes at least 326 decorated boats will participate in the parade.
• One million hours of work without a lost-time injury. That milestone was reached this week by Alumax Extrusions of Yankton. General Manager Jack Earp said the seven-figure safety mark has been met only once before in the Alumax Corporation, which includes 109 plants.
