pedestals to 50-amp pedestals to serve the larger campers we're seeing nowadays," Bertsch said.

A dredging project also is planned for this month at the Springfield Recreation Area.

As with every offseason, Bertsch said park officials will be doing cleanup work throughout the coming months, including the removal of trees affected by drought and pinewood nematodes.

"We didn't lose as many (trees) this year, though," he said. "The ample moisture slowed that down."

Despite the offseason work taking place, Bertsch said there are plenty of spaces available for people who want to visit the campgrounds. Lewis and Clark and Peirson Ranch recreation areas are open year-round, while White Crane Recreation Area will remain open until Nov. 1.

Reservations can be made by calling 1-800-710-CAMP or by visiting www.campsd.com.

"This is probably the best time to camp," Bertsch said. "It's a little quieter out here, and we invite people to come out and enjoy the park."
