USD Enjoying Early Success

VERMILLION — Though still early in its season, the USD women's soccer team is already on pace for its best showing at the Division I level.

The proof: The Coyotes, at 3-1-2, boast as many wins now as they had combined between the previous two seasons. USD is unbeaten in its last four games, including Sunday's double overtime tie with Nevada.

And for good measure, the Coyotes are already within range of the five victories by the 2008 team that kick-started the D-I campaign.

Calling it a "dream come true," junior mid-fielder Kaiti Porter compared it to "finally" being on the train tracks, heading in the right direction.

'We've worked so hard and been through so much since my freshman year; we deserve this," she said Monday. "We're finally on the right track and it almost feels impossible to fall off.

'It encourages us to even work harder and harder, because we like this feeling of being on track.

Using that analogy, the steam that has propelled the 2013 locomotive has been defense.

Prior to the start of the season, head coach Mandy Green made clear that one of her team's aims was to break the school record for fewest goals allowed in a season — 22 set back in 2005. "We talk about defending literally every single day," Green said Monday.

And so far those chats - not to mention the numerous practices in the late summer heat have paid off for the Covotes.

Through six games, the team has allowed a total of six goals, an improvement from the 15 it gave up through at the same point a year ago.

Still with 12 games remaining on the season (including seven in the Summit League), the Coyotes, yes, are feeling pretty good.

No. 23 Huskers Out To Settle Score Against Bruins

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) - Minutes after his team finished its win over Southern Mississippi, Nebraska coach Bo Pelini reminded his players that they have a score to settle this week against UCLA.

'They're coming into our house, and we owe them," players said Pelini told them before he walked out of the locker room Pelini on Monday downplayed, but didn't dismiss getting even as an incentive for the 23rd-ranked Cornhuskers in their meeting with the No. 16 Bruins (1-0) on Saturday in Lincoln.

Last year, the Huskers lost 36-30 in Los Angeles and gave up 653 yards — the secondmost ever against a Nebraska defense. Pelini said an estimated 300 of those 653 yards came after Nebraska defenders had made initial contact. The coach doesn't expect his players to forget that.

"I would hope, and I'm pretty positive, our team is motivated no matter what the situ-ation," he said. "It just so happens we played this team a year ago, so if that provides our guys with extra motivation, so be it. I would hope it does. Hopefully that motivation will come in the form of great preparation, because that's Hundley is well-established as one of the nation's top runpass threats, and he's earning some mention as a Heisman Trophy candidate.

He threw for 274 yards and two touchdowns and ran for 63 vards and two more scores in the win over Nevada.

LOS ANGELES (AP) -UCLA coach Jim Mora and the 16th-ranked Bruins returned to football practice on Monday for the first time since the death of walk-on receiver Nick Pasquale.

The team practiced in preparation for this weekend's game at No. 23 Nebraska. Pasquale was hit by a car and killed while walking in his hometown of San Clemente on Sunday.

The 20-year-old receiver played in the final offensive series in UCLA's season-opening victory over Nevada on Aug. 31. The Bruins were off last weekend and Pasquale had gone home to visit his family.

"It's a very tragic time, a very difficult time," Mora said.

Mora spent time with the freshman's family on Sunday in San Clemente, where hundreds of Pasquale's friends, family members and fellow football players gathered at the high school's field for a vigil.

Pasquale's older brother, A.J., played at the high school, where his father Mel Pasquale is director of football operations.

"Our thoughts and prayers are with his family, that's the most important thing," Mora said. He closed all practices this week to the media, and UCLA players weren't made available for comment.

"Our players are dealing with it each in their own way," Mora said. "We think that's the right way to do it. The important thing is they're together. This is a very close team and they care desperately about each other.

Nebraska coach Bo Pelini said the university's thoughts and prayers were with Pasquale, his family, and UCLA.

"That's a lot bigger than any football game," he said. "Obviously, this has got to be a very difficult time for them.

Pasquale was walking in the early morning hours on Sunday along a street when he was hit by a car, according to the Orange County coro-

The driver stayed at the scene and was not charged with any crime or infraction, said Lt. Jeff Hallock of the Orange County Sheriff's Department. "No drugs or alcohol have been found to have been factors for the driver," Hallock said. "An autopsy report and later toxicology information will determine factors for the pedestrian.' After starting to say that Pasquale had "only played a few plays," Mora stopped mid-sentence when a video reporter in the back of the room began talking at the

"I know that we'll win a lot more; we're that confident," freshman forward Jamie Karch said Monday. "I just feel like we have to continue to work hard.

And of course, that starts with defense, Karch said — adding, with a chuckle, that she's never worked as much on defense in her career.

'lt's good that everyone knows how to defend, then we can finally move on to offense," said Karch, the team leader in points (7) and goals (3). "You have to build from the back and connect passes; that's how you win the ball back.

And those wins are extra special for those players who experienced a 3-28-6 record over the past two years, said Porter, one of 11 juniors for the Covotes.

"It makes you appreciate it that much more too.

Parkston Golfers Win Home Invite

MITCHELL - The Parkston Trojans beat out a 10team field that included two Class AA teams in claiming a 13-stroke victory at its home boys' golf invitational, held on Monday at Mitchell's Lakeview Golf Course.

Parkston had three golfers shoot 74 or 75 and put its four top golfers in the top nine to finish at 304, well ahead of Dell Rapids. Mitchell was third at 321, followed by Pierre at 357.

Mitchell's Jacob Rice won with a 73. Parkston's Jake Weber and Ty Kinneberg, and Mitchell's Jaron Weich all shot 74.

Frenetic Eagles Roll Past Washington 33-27

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — Just try to keep up with Michael Vick, LeSean McCoy and the Philadelphia Eagles this season. Robert Griffin III and the Washington Redskins sure couldn't.

Playing at a frenetic pace that left the Redskins bumbling and stumbling, the Eagles unleashed coach Chip Kelly's offense on the NFL and crammed 77 plays into 60 minutes of football. They had their share of miscues, of course, but they held on for a 33-27 upset of the defending NFC East champs.

Vick, running the don't-take-a-breath attack that won 87 percent of the time during Kelly's four years at the University of Oregon, completed 15 of 25 passes for 203 yards and two touchdowns, and he ran nine times for 56 yards and a score. McCoy had 31 carries for 184 yards, including a 34-yard TD. DeSean Jackson piled up 104 yards on seven catches.

Vick hit Jackson for a 25-yard touchdown and Brent Celek for a 28-yard score, then found the end zone himself on a 3yard run — and that was just the first half. It would have been a bigger rout if Vick hadn't missed three open receivers in the first quarter, or if his sideways lateral on first-and-goal at the 4 hadn't been tipped by linebacker Ryan Kerrigan and returned 75 yards for a Redskins touchdown.

Perhaps the most remarkable accomplishment by Vick, McCoy, Kelly and the Eagles: They managed to upstage Griffin. The game was played eight months to the day since the Redskins quarterback had major knee surgery, and his return Monday was the culmination of a dedicated, high-profile rehab that included a public clash with Washington coach Mike Shanahan that barely put a dent in the fans' fervent adoration for their franchise player.

As it turned out, they didn't have much of a chance to chant "R-G-3!" - because the Redskins offense couldn't stay on the field. Their first seven plays: lost fumble by Alfred Morris, 3-yard loss by Morris, penalty for illegal shift, screen to Morris that got back some yards, interception thrown by Griffin into triple coverage, pass dropped by fullback Darrel Young, safety that occurred when Morris bobbled a pitch in the end zone.

The Redskins were trailing 33-7 late in the third quarter before three consecutive touchdowns — the last coming with 1:14 to play — made the score more respectable.

Wearing a brace on his right knee, Griffin completed 30 of 49 passes for 329 yards, but 169 yards came in the fourth after the Eagles had taken control. He was also intercepted twice - the first multiinterception game of his career. He ran only five times for 24 yards. He reached down to touch his knee after he was slammed down by Mychal Kendricks late in the second quarter — Griffin was flagged for intentional grounding on the play - but the quarterback remained in the game.

Washington didn't run a play in Philadelphia territory until the second half. At one point, the Eagles were outgaining the Redskins 146-3. There was a moment in the second quarter when the weary defense had more cramps (two) than the offense had first downs (one). Even Kai Forbath, who made 17 of 18 field goals in his rookie year, was wide right in the third quarter. Shanahan's team also committed 10 penalties for 75 yards. Kerrigan left in the fourth quarter with concussion symptoms.
