OPINION | OUR VIEW

Archery Ideas Show Exciting Promise

We can dream — because that's the only way dreams can come true. Thus, it's good that we can dream, as some local officials are doing, about the development of a top-flight archery park in Yankton. The vision looks for something centered near the National Field Archery Association (NFAA) headquarters on the east edge of Yankton, with possibilities for hotels, restaurants, business space and archery facilities that would rival any in the nation.

ON THIS DATE

By The Associated Press
Today is Tuesday, Sept. 24, the 267th day of 2013. There are 98 days left in the year.
Today's Highlight in History: On Sept. 24, 1976, former hostage Patricia Hearst was sentenced to seven years in prison for her part in a 1974 bank robbery in San Francisco carried out by the Symbionese Liberation Army. Hearst was released after 22 months after receiving clemency from President Jimmy Carter.
On this date: In 1789, Congress passed a Judiciary Act, which provided for an attorney general and a Supreme Court.
In 1869, thousands of businessmen were ruined in a Wall Street panic known as Black Friday after financiers Jay Gould and James Fisk attempted to corner the gold market.
In 1929, Lt. James H. Doolittle guided a Consolidated NY-2 Biplane over Mitchell Field in New York in the first all-instrument flight.
In 1948, Mildred Gillars, accused of being Nazi wartime radio propagandist "Axis Sally," pleaded not guilty in Washington, D.C., to charges of treason. Gillars, later convicted, ended up serving 12 years in prison.
In 1955, President Dwight D. Eisenhower suffered a heart attack while on vacation in Denver.
In 1961, "Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color" premiered on NBC.
In 1963, the U.S. Senate ratified a treaty with Britain and the Soviet Union limiting nuclear testing.
In 1969, the trial of the "Chicago Eight" (later seven) began. Five of the defendants were later convicted of crossing state lines to incite riots at the 1968 Democratic National Convention, but the convictions were ultimately overturned.
In 1991, kidnappers in Lebanon freed British hostage Jack Mann after holding him captive for more than two years. Children's author Theodor Seuss Geisel, better known as Dr. Seuss, died in La Jolla, Calif., at age 87.
In 2001, President George W. Bush ordered a freeze on the assets of 27 people and organizations with suspected links to terrorism, including Islamic militant Osama bin Laden, and urged other nations to do likewise.

A World Of No Restraints

BY BILL O'REILLY

We live in a vicious world. It took about one hour before the Russians started gloating about the Washington Navy Yard massacre. Alexei Pushkov, chairman of a foreign affairs committee in the Russian parliament, tweeted: "A new shootout at Navy headquarters in Washington — a lone gunman. ... Nobody's even surprised anymore. A clear confirmation of American exceptionalism."

Bill O'REILLY

With its emphasis on abundance, the United States has become a target of intense jealousy from all over the world. Even poor Americans have conveniences many people overseas will never have. A recent study by the Census Bureau says the poorest Americans have color TVs, air conditioners, computers, cell-phones — almost every modern convenience.

The Rez Of The Story Understanding 'Dirty Savages'

BY VINCE TWO EAGLES

Hau Mitakuepi (Greetings My Relatives), Paul McCartney once said, "We were a savage little lot, Liverpool kids, not pacifist or vegetarian or anything. But I feel I've gone beyond that, and that it was so immature to be so prejudiced and believe in stereotypes."

Vince TWO EAGLES

Tapia, who accompanied Hernán Cortez in the conquest of what is now Mexico, recorded that Montezuma "washed his body twice a day" — a practice that astonished the conquistadores. "This emphasis on cleanliness extended to food preparation. Fray Bernardino de Sahagún described the criteria for a good preparer of food: 'The good cook is honest, discreet; [she is] one who likes good food — an epicure, a taster. [She] is clean, one who bathes herself, prudent; one who washes her hands, who washes herself; who had good drink, good food.'

Keep A Lid On It

Fernande Colette Bitsos, Yankton
I had to write about it! I have read more than once the instructions given by the city garbage collecting service regarding putting lids on trash cans. However, the collecting service doesn't feel necessary to replace the trash containers with the "lids" back on them that can be easily secured by one or both handles.

and would expect the City to apply similar instructions to be followed by its collectors. I have also seen many plastic bags full of refuse on the curbs as a tempting smorgasbord for abandoned and famished cats and dogs. That should be a no-no and the depositors of that trash "fined." Little Switzerland does it.
