

Jamestown Uses Late Surge To Put Away Lancers

The University of Jamestown women's soccer team defeated Mount Marty College 4-0 Sunday in Yankton.

Jamestown was on the attack for most of the game, totaling 32 shots, while Mount Marty had trouble relieving pressure on the defensive half.

"We needed to hit a few more passes," MMC coach Peter Shepard said. "The work effort was there, we just need to make sure that we are being clinical with it."

Sophie Bales put the Jimmies on the scoreboard in the 24th minute with a shot from just outside the 6-yard box on the right that bounced off of the goalkeeper's hands and into the top of the net. The game from Ashley Hoffman, who missed high, and Carly Manahan, who shot off of a free kick that was saved by the goalie. Jamestown continued the attack later in the first half racking up 14 shots, but was unable to find the net for a second time.

Early in the second half Mount Marty had its best chance to score on a shot that went just over the cross bar with the goalie out from Alexandria Max.

In the 69th and 70th minutes Jamestown got two goals from Monica Noria and Josse-lin Cosio to take a three score lead. The Jimmies added their final goal on a header from Briana De Stefano from just outside the 18-yard box.

Jamestown looked like the better team the whole game and did not allow Mount Marty many chances to score. The score could have turned out worse for the Lancers, but goalie Courtney True made ten saves including on key one-on-one shots. True enjoyed the action in net.

"I honestly was just playing for the team," True said. "There are 11 of us out there and we all play for the other 10."

"I like the action, but it's better if I don't have action because we are scoring."

Shepard thought True had a great game in net against Jamestown.

"It's really nice to have a keeper back there that you can rely on," Shepard said. "It's a pretty tough situation, but she came out on top of it most of the time."

On Saturday Mount Marty traveled to play Clarke University and lost 3-0. Getting on the offensive attack was the problem for the Lancers as they managed three shots in the loss.

Despite the losses True feels good about her team.

"I think there was a lot of opportunities we can work on, like a lot of areas, but we are improving on last year," True said. "We are a completely

Anderson Lifts USD Past Northern Iowa

VERMILLION — A header by South Dakota senior Danielle Anderson boosted the Coyotes 1-0 past Northern Iowa at the USD Soccer Complex on Sunday.

A corner kick by senior Taylor Nivala in the 77th minute found the head of the 5-foot-2 midfielder waiting in the box. Anderson's first header bounced off the defense and up into the air again. Anderson connected with the ball on her second attempt, striking it with her head into the left side of the net.

South Dakota (3-7-0) had eight other shots in addition to Anderson's two headers.

Junior Corey Strang had a trio of shots within a two-minute span in the first half. Her first two attempts were picked off by Panther goalkeeper Whitney Blunt, while her third rolled just wide of the right post.

Nivala, senior Brenna Bills, and freshman Makenzie Burmeister also had shots during the match.

The Coyote back line limited the Northern Iowa (4-4-3) offense to only seven shots on goal in the 90 regulation minutes. Of the seven shots, sophomore goalkeeper Sydney Hardin grabbed three saves. Senior defensive midfielder Elena Tsakakis deflected an on-target shot with a header in the 24th minute of the match. The remaining three shots were either high or wide of the goal.

South Dakota returns to the pitch at 4 p.m. Friday to take on UC Riverside at USD Soccer Complex in Vermillion.

Coyotes Rout Drake 52-0

BY JEREMY HOECK

VERMILLION — As he previewed the upcoming 2015 season, University of South Dakota football coach Joe Glenn told the media last month that he would better be able to evaluate his Coyotes after their three non-conference games.

In that stretch, USD won loss, win, win.

With Saturday's 52-0 rout of non-scholarship Drake signifying the end of that non-conference portion of the schedule, Glenn had a chance to stop and survey the landscape.

"I think we're going to be pretty good," he said. "We're athletic enough, we're old enough, and our quarterback's working good enough."

Glenn said the 34-0 loss in the season opener at Kansas State was at the time worrisome — "with the way we got stoned" — but he knew his team would rebound.

"I wasn't ready to say, 'Hey, we're not any good,'" Glenn said Saturday. "It didn't look like our other teams; I know we're better than that."

The ensuing performance at UC Davis — a 27-17 win highlighted by an aggressive defense and vastly improved special teams — eventually carried over into Saturday.

The signs of progress had been there, Glenn said.

"I knew, and then I watched us practice this week," he said. "The effort's great, their attitude is beautiful."

The non-conference schedule this year certainly favored USD a little more than 2014, when the Coyotes played FCS games against Montana and Northern Arizona (as well as NAIA William Penn).

With UC Davis and Drake on the docket for this season, the Coyotes knew how important winning both would be toward any big-picture progress.

"Those are two must wins for this team, for this program going forward," junior quarterback Ryan Saeger said, "because we know what the Missouri Valley gauntlet is like."

Working in USD's favor this time around?

• The Coyotes have put together back-to-back 200-plus yard games rushing the ball, 243 yards at UC Davis and 296

Northwestern Makes Long Trip Worthwhile

Wildcats Beat Hosts For Title In Cavalier Clash

BY DYLAN HUGGINS

TYNDALL — When the matches were close, the Northwestern Wildcats found a way to come out on top at the Cavalier Clash volleyball tournament, held Saturday at Bon Homme High School in Tyndall.

Northwestern, a Class B powerhouse, defeated hometown Bon Homme 25-22, 25-11 in the championship match.

Northwestern coach Nora Groft said she was happy with how her girls performed in the championship game.

"I was really proud with the way we came out emotionally ready to go," Nora Groft said.

"We had a really close match with Parker and sometimes you have an emotional let down coming out of tight match."

The Wildcats had a 9-1 record coming into Saturday's tournament.

Peyton Groft said she thought her team played well throughout the day.

"I thought we played well and we played as a team and we had lots of enthusiasm," Peyton Groft said.

Darby Duncan said she thought it was fun to play against the best.

"It's really fun to play against the top competition and it's fun to see us work together and just go for it," Duncan said.

In the championship win for the Wildcats, Duncan had 14 digs and 14 assists. Addi Sparling had 10 digs and Josie Clemens had 24 attacks.

For Bon Homme, Alie Adams had 14 set assist,

Sierra Mesman and Jeni Schmidt had six kills each.

Teams Traveled From Across The State

Sixteen teams participated in a one-day volleyball tournament that involved a pool playing system.

Teams were divided into different pools and then the champs of those pools played the runner ups to see who would advance in the tournament.

Mike Duffek, the athletic director for the Bon Homme school district, said 16 teams weren't in this tournament when it originally started.

"It was smaller when I first started it because we only had eight teams," Duffek said.

"We then decided with the facility that we have that we were able to go with four pools and I think it's turned into a really nice tournament."

Nora Groft, the Northwestern head coach, said traveling far to the Cavalier Cash was about competing.

"In the past, we're always looking to play new competition and see new teams" she said.

"We've been going to the Sioux Falls Christian tournament and it ended up being a bunch of goods teams from Northeast South Dakota."

Groft mentioned that traveling far for a tournament wasn't new to her team.

"We typically travel far for our tournaments and our duel matches we stay pretty close to home."

Northwestern, Bon Homme, Parker, and Wagner were the teams that made it to the final four in the Cavalier Clash.
