Menno Medics

KELLY HERTZ/P&D

The Sioux Falls Christian marching band paid tribute to soldiers — as well as the nurses who tend to their wounds in wartime — during a performance at Menno's annual Band Day competition Friday. Several bands from the region took to the streets to perform before judges. The "Sound" of the University of South Dakota was this year's featured college band.

Drug Take-Back Scheduled For Knox County Today

CENTER, Neb. — Knox County will participate in Saturday's National Prescription Drug Take-Back activities. Bring your unused, unneeded or unwanted prescription drugs to the Knox County Courthouse in Center from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. If you're unable to make it, you can bring the prescription drugs in Monday through Friday during regular office hours.

Remember Some Harvest Season Safety Reminders

LINCOLN, Neb. — As harvest season gets under way, the Nebraska State Patrol encourages all motorists to exercise caution and increase awareness when traveling on rural roads and highways.
"It's the time of year when we're bound to see an increase in agricultural equipment on state roadways," said Colonel Bradley Rice, Superintendent of the Nebraska State Patrol. "We want motorists to be aware of and utilize caution when approaching, following or passing farm vehicles."
Combines, grain carts tractors, and other agricultural implements typically travel at slower speeds. Due to their dimensions and loads, operator visibility is often reduced. Drivers are also reminded to watch out for wildlife often shifting locations due to the increase in activity.
Operators of agricultural implements may travel on the shoulder of the roadway when available and should display Slow Moving Vehicle (SMV) warning triangles and utilize their flashing yellow caution lights whenever they are on the road.
When turning left from a roadway into a field or farm entrance, operators are cautioned to be aware of vehicles attempting to pass them. If an occupant restraint system is available in the implement they are driving, operators are encouraged to buckle up.
Motorists are also urged to utilize caution when driving at dawn and dusk as sun glare can cause reduced visibility.
Colonel Rice said, "Roadway safety is a shared responsibility. Let's all do our part to have a safe harvest season."

YANKTON COUNTY TAX LEVY OPT-OUT

The new Tax Levy to be voted on next Tuesday leaves out three major considerations. First, the new tax levy does not include a sunset provision. Second, it provides for new construction projects. Third, it does not address the existing roads and bridges budget.

A sunset provision would ensure that this tax levy expires in a set period of time unless the levy is renewed by public vote at the end of the term. This gives the voting public of Yankton County a check against the county commission to guarantee that this levy is still needed, effective, and not being abused. The people of the county need to have more direct control over the spending and levying of taxes by the commission, and a sunset provision is the easiest and most effective way to do so.

The new tax levy has been marketed to the public as a funding source to repair our existing county roads and bridges, but the tax levy, as written, provides for new construction and the ability to assess additional taxes for new projects. This wording needs to be changed to only provide for the repair and maintenance of the existing infrastructure in like-kind or substantially similar infrastructure. For example, a gravel road can only be maintained and re-graveled, or an asphalt road can only be resurfaced or re-asphalted. This tax levy should not have the ability to be used as an ultimate funding source for any new projects. Any new projects such as re-paving an oil road into an all-season road or asphaltting a gravel road should be left to the public to decide on a case-by-case basis.

The way the new tax levy is written does not address the current roads and bridges budget. The new tax levy should state that the general fund contribution cannot be reduced from previous years while the special tax levy is in effect.

For example, say that the designation from the general fund for the past five years was $3 million a year. The new tax levy will bring in an additional $1.5 million per year. This would bring the total roads and bridges budget to $4.5 million per year. A substantial increase that should help accomplish the goal of repairing our dilapidated infrastructure.

Without such a provision what will happen, and what appears to already be happening, based on the commission's current budget proposal is this:

For example, say that the designation from the general fund for the past five years was $3 million a year. But, since the new tax levy will bring in an additional $1.5 million per year, the county commission decides to reduce the general fund contribution to say $2 million, leaving the total roads and bridges budget at $3.5 million. This would not result in a substantial increase in the roads and bridges budget, and essentially creates a slush fund for the commission disguised as a roads and bridges tax.

In conclusion, the new tax levy lacks three major provisions: a sunset provision, provision for only the repair and maintenance of existing roads, and a provision to maintain the general fund contribution to the current budget. Without these or similar provisions the voters of Yankton County would essentially be handing the county commission a blank check to do with as they please, for as long as they please, with no direct oversight from the public.
